Tents Blow Down; Local Scouts Love National Jamboree

By BART ROCCA

(A group of Local Boy Scouts are encamped at the Boy Scout Jamboree at Colorado Springs, Colorado. For an eye-witness report, we have the following message special to The Sun from Bart Rocca of Lafayette).

Last Friday, The Boy Scouts of America had its 50th anniversary.

At Colorado Springs, Colorado, at 9 a.m. Troop 62 of the Mt. Diablo Council, along with over 1300 other Boy Scout Troops, raised their troop flag. An aerial bomb was set off from the main headquarters and upon observing it, Millard Schulte of Danville, Steve Darwin of Danville and Don Smith of Walnut Creek raised our flag.

One of the main activities at the jamboree is swapping. Boys from different councils bring patches, neckerchiefs, neckerchief slides, rocks and many other things representative of the area from which they came.

Before swapping, the Scouts look over each others items, converse for a while until they can make an agreement and then upon reaching an agreement they swap items and shake hands. For the most part, the swapping is done at one of the four trading posts situated throughout the jamboree area.

THE SWAPPING for Troop 62 has been excellent mainly because of the high value of the Mt. Diablo Council jamboree patch.

Thursday, July 21, we had our first campfire. It was a section 33 campfire. One of the main attractions was a Scout from Luxembourg who told us about scouting in his country.

Other entertainment was provided by other troops in our section. We ended the campfire with a song.

Camping in the wind and rain are two of the many new and valuable experiences we are encountering. The wind comes in gusts and whirlwinds strong enough to blow a tent 50 feet in the air. The Scouts are learning to drop the tents so they don't blow away and yet at the same time can be reset in a very short time.

LAST FRIDAY we had a mountain thunder storm which lasted for several hours. There were hundreds of streaks of lightning.

The second night we were at the jamboree, Wednesday July 20, we, along with approximately 8000 other Boy Scouts went to a ranch several miles out of the jamboree where we were served a chuck wagon dinner.

Entertainment was provided by several of the cowboys from the ranch. A Scout from Sweden sang two songs to add to the entertainment of the cowboys.

The one award which can be earned at the jamboree is the adventure award, and our troop competed in its first contest last Friday. It was the personal fitness contest which consisted of a rugged obstacle course. The Pelican Patrol did very well and won the contest for our troop.

THE PELICAN Patrol then entered the section physical fitness contest and won that also. Members are Ernie Dankas, patrol leader, Lafayette; Tom Kling Jr., assistant patrol leader, Orinda; Tom Peery, Lafayette; Richard Tidwell, Richmond; Richard Harmon, Concord; Kent Lazarus, Lafayette and Bruce Guelden, Lafayette.

The staff of Troop 62 include: Scoutmaster Tom Clarke, Danville; Assistant Scoutmasters Al Meade of Walnut Creek and Tom Kling of Orinda; Junior Assistant Scoutmasters Gary Hanscom and Bruce Britos of Sun Valley; Senior Patrol Leader Don Woodcock, Orinda; Scribe and Correspondent Bart Rocca, Lafayette and Quartermaster and Assistant Correspondent Preston Patterson, Danville.

THE REST of the troop includes: Jim Ingham, Bob Stoops, Kent Lazarus, Tom Peery, Bruce Guelden, Ernie Dankas, Bob Whittaker and Brian Childs of Lafayette.

Also Eddie Yates, Bob Yates, Don Smith, Milton Clark, Warren Ronneberg, Tim Olson and Joe Thurman, Walnut Creek; Dick Couden, Ken Kogut, Emry Allen, Tom MacMullen and Gary Moeller, Sun Valley.

And John Clarke, Willard Schulte, Steve Darwin, Burr Spencer and Tom Knight of Danville.

Also, Bob Blanks of Los Angeles, Roy Dunlap of Pleasant Hill, Richard Harmon, Concord, Richard Tidwell of Richmond and Tom Kling Jr., Orinda.

RON PARKS, MIRAMONTE sophomore, is working to duplicate an experiment in which electromagnetic waves are generated by means of oscillatory discharges through a spark gap which has metal plates on the end, and then to detect them with a similar type of circuit. He has made a rough operating model of the transmitter, which M. W. Loveland is assisting him to house.

A. D. Boardman Estate Valued At $527,438

A decree of distribution of the $527,438 estate of Albert D. Boardman, former executive of General Electric Company, was signed Monday by Superior Judge Martin E. Rothenberg.

Payment of $46,799 Federal inheritance tax and $10,805 in state inheritance tax, plus other expenses, lowered the clear market value of the estate to $464,063.

Boardman, who died at his home, 2 Modoc Road, Orinda, on November 11, 1958, was manager of the commercial department of the company's control division in Oakland until his retirement.

General Moore On Active Duty At Hamilton AFB

Heading up the Air Reserve Airlift Air Force (ARALAF) of Brightstar/Pinecone III, largest peacetime airborne exercise involving Air Reserve Forces ever held, is Brigadier General Rollin B. Moore Jr., Commander of the 349th Troop Carrier (Golden Gate) Wing, stationed at Hamilton AFB, California.

He will have under his command some 600 Air Force Reserve Aircraft which will spew forth 11,000 paratroopers and 6000 tons of heavy equipment of the famed 101st (Screaming Eagles) Airborne Division over the Fort Bragg, N.C. area in mid-August of this year.

A graduate of the Air Command and Staff School, General Moore is married to the former Elaine Eckenroth of San Antonio, Texas, and makes his home in Orinda, where he is active in civic affairs and a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club.

Science Seminar Offers High Quality Instruction

The Miramonte Science Seminar is a new educational device offering science students of high ability instruction in scientific concepts, methods and applications in an advanced, rigorous and individualized manner. It is distinguished in that it successfully enlists as teachers many successful scientists in the community.

The Science Seminar program operates on the principle that scientific talent in a given community can well be used to direct the activities of able, science-minded students along the line of individual research in a specialized field.

THE MIRAMONTE Seminar has many outstanding scientists who are willing to share their enthusiasm, knowledge and experience with high school students. In some cases knowledge gained from the seminar has resulted in a change of student career plans.

Seminar meetings are held every Wednesday, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the chemistry room at Miramonte High School. The first hour eminent scientists in different fields lecture and hold discussion periods. This serves to broaden students' knowledge and arouse interest in new subjects.

THE SECOND hour students work with consultants in special interest fields. Each student is required to spend four to six hours each week on a project which has been approved by his consultant.

The fields represented and group leaders are as follows:

Chemistry group: Dr. Chester O'Konski, professor of chemistry, U.C.; Dr. Stanley Thompson, U.C. professor, research in radiation laboratory.

Earth science group: Dr. Garniss Curtis, professor of geology, U.C. Life science group: Dr. Rudolph Grah, professor of forestry, U.C.; Oliver Pearson, zoologist.

Mathematics: Harold T. Olson, professor of mathematics, U.C. Physics: Dr. Geoffrey Chew, professor of physics, U.C.; Dr. Michael Morazcsik, radiation labortory, Livermore.

Dr. Walter Haefele, chemist with Shell Development, acts as coordinator. The program committee is composed of the group leaders named above, and includes a selections committee composed of two faculty advisors and three scientists.

They are Robert Campbell, Miramonte science department head, and Lloyd Hunt, head counselor at Miramonte; Dr. Geoffrey Chew, Dr. D. W. Hilger and Dr. Chester O'Konski.

The administration committee has as chairman Mrs. Charles Eaton; Mrs. Graniss Curtis in charge of the evaluations committee; Mrs. Herbert Nilmeier on public relations; and Mrs. Richard Leland as secretary treasurer.

BELOW ARE examples of work students are doing.

Ron Parks has been working with Dr. William J. Ozeroff, nuclear physicist. His goal has been to duplicate one of Hertz' experiments involving the transmission of electromagnetic waves (radio waves).

Hertz' classic experiment was the generation of waves by means of oscillatory discharges through a spark gap which had metal plates on the end, and then to detect them with a similar type of circuit.

Ron has made a rough operating model of the Hertz transmitter. In the near future he plans to complete the receiver in order to start experiments that carry on where Hertz left off.

TOM HUTTON has constructed a completely automatic telephone system which can handle 100 dial phones, which may be installed in Miramonte next year.

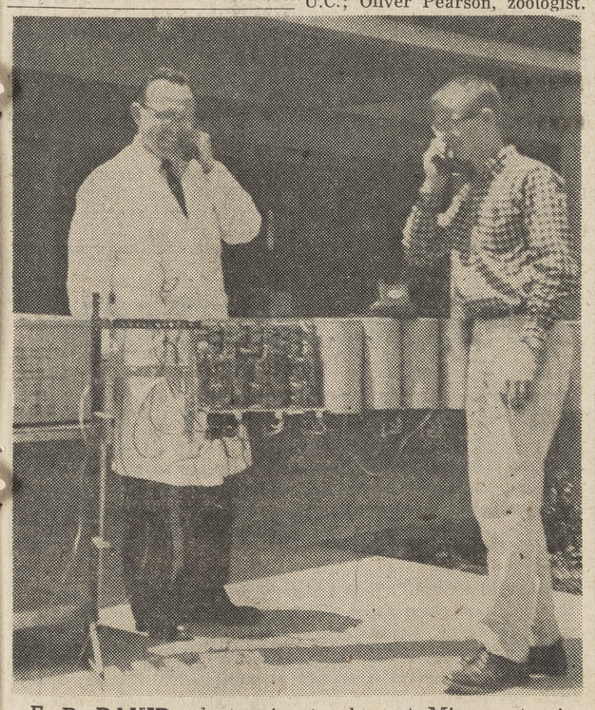
Open Swim Meet Winners Named

Winners in Orinda Recreation Department's open swimming meet held at Miramonte Pool aturday morning have been announced.

Freestyle: Girls 8 and under, Elaine Tarpley, 26.6; boys 8 and under, Eric Christensen, 23; girls 9-10, Nancy Beuhler, 18; boys 9-10, teve Bowles, 17.3; girls 11-12, Sandy Rofinella, 40.9; boys 11-12, John Savage, 33.3; girls 13-14, Candy Ozene, 37; boys 13-14, Bob Savage, 27.2; boys 15 and over, Tom Gould, 33.7.

BREAST STROKE: Girls 8 and under, Elaine Tarpley, 31.2; boys 8 and under, Eric Christensen, 27.8; girls 9-10, Cindy Ozene, 27.6; boys 9-10, Joe Dirickx, 24; girls 11-12, Carol Tarpley, 1:10; boys 11-12, John Savage, 38.5; girls 13-14, Chris Romer, 49.3; boys 13-14, Bob Savage, 38.6, boys 15 and over, Rick Stevensen, 44.

BACK STROKE: Girls 8 and under, Elaine Tarpley, 28.5; boys 8 and under, Eric Christensen, 34.6; girls 9-10, Cindy Ozene, 25; boys 9-10, Ron Ivy, 21.9; girls 11-12, Carol Tarpley, 58.3; boys 11-12, John Savage, 40.1; girls 13-14, Candy Ozene, 46.6; boys 13-14, Bob Savage, 33; boys 15 and over Tom Gould, 48.5;



F. R. DAVID, electronics teacher at Miramonte, is shown with Tom Hutton, Miramonte sophomore, with part of an automatic telephone system which can handle 100 dial telephones. Tom built the system pictured and assisted in the design as his project in the Miramonte Science Seminar.

Residents Protest, But Road OK'd

Services For Boy Stricken On Hike Conducted Today

Funeral services for Douglas Coons, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Coons of Lafayette, will be held today at the Chapel in the Valley, Lafayette Mortuary at 2:30 p.m.

Reverend Carl Thomas of the Lafayette - Orinda Presbyterian Church will officiate. Interment will follow at the Oakmont Park in Lafayette.

The boy was stricken Monday in Yosemite National Park with an apparent bronchial or heart attack and died early Tuesday.

HE WAS hiking with his father and 14 other fathers and sons from Lafayette near their Mt. Lyle base at an altitude of 11,000 feet when the attack occurred. The camp is about 13 miles from Tuolumne Meadows.

Two members of the party hiked out to bring aid. The Tuolumne County Sheriff's office dispatched a crew to bring down the boy's body from the mountain.

The youngster awoke during the early morning hours and complained he couldn't breathe, then he collapsed. Coons administered artificial respiration for nearly two hours but all attempts to save the boy failed.

AN AUTOPSY was performed Wednesday, but conclusive results will not be available for approximately a week due to necessary laboratory work.

The family stated they were mystified as to the death, that young Douglas had no record of illness.

He is survived by his mother and father, two brothers, Stephen and Gregg, and a sister, Debbie.

Coons, whose residence is at 3320 South Lucille Lane, is employed by the Farmers Insurance Group in Walnut Creek.

Child's Chest On Market-- Not for Long

H. R. Coleman of 32 Charles Hill Road, Orinda, sold a child's wardrobe chest and brass fireplace set to "The first people who looked at them," he told The Sun.

Coleman placed his want at in the 40,000-circulation Sun Shopping News and the ad also ran automatically in the Walnut Creek Sun, Orinda Sun, Lafayette Sun and Pleasant Hill Sun —all for one reasonable price.

Coleman also placed another want ad in The Sun at the same time, and sold on the first day a wool carpet with pad, also custom draperies.

W. F. Wagner of 1175 Elmwood Drive, Walnut Creek, "immediately" sold two twin springs and mattresses, "almost new" with his want ad in The Sun.

The list of "success stories" from Sun want ads each week is legion, and this is credited to the "5-in-1" treatment given each want ad.

The resulting lure for more and more classified customers also is a benefit to classified readers—they have more to choose from when they read The Sun.

Place your want ad by phone now! Call YE 4-5000, AT 4-4444 or CL 4-4343.

A 14-word ad costs you only $1.60.

Four Men Seeking CCSD Post

Attorney Irving Roemer and retired Army officer Frank Salfingere have filed for re-election as directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District, and they will have at least two competitors.

Papers have been filed by Charles J. Gibbs of Orinda, an oil company engineer, and Sherwood S. Knight, Jr., of Walnut Creek, retired oil company employee.

Ernest Spiegl, the other retiring director, has taken out filing papers but has not returned them to the Sanitary District offices at 1250 Springbrook Road, Walnut Creek.

Robert Pelusi of Walnut Creek, an engineer, has also taken out papers, but has not returned them.

The deadline for filing is next Thursday at 5 p.m. The board's next regular meeting is that evening.

The election itself will be held September 13.

Polling places are as follows: Pacheco Town Hall, Gregory Gardens School, Oak Park School, Buena Vista School, Walnut Heights School, Parkmead School, the district offices, Lafayette Fire Station No. 1.

Orinda Union School, Veterans Memorial Building in Danville, Moraga Ranch Cookhouse.

Sanitary Board Approves Budget

The Central Contra Costa Sanitary District approved a 1960-61 budget of $1,291,000.50 at Thursday night's directors' meeting.

To be raised from taxes is $97,122.53 of the total, setting the tax rate at 68.3, based on an assessed valuation of $142 million.

Directors heard a claim from Anne B. Thomas, who fell at the intersection of Main and Botelho in Walnut Creek. Her $20,000 claim was referred to the district's insurance carrier.

A complaint from Pets and Pals in Lafayette arising from an increase in garbage pickup rates was heard. The Lafayette Garbage Disposal Service recently raised the Pets and Pals service charge from $2 to $12. The garbage company reported the change was necessary because of the quantity and nature of waste collected from Pets and Pals, and the claim was denied.

District Manager Gerry Horstkotte reported the outfall sewer line would be completed by Aug. 3, and asked authorization to sell 150 surplus piles.

Horstkotte also reported that through efforts of director Irving C. Roemer, the district has obtained a patent for a backwater overflow device. The device makes it possible to relieve sewer stoppage outside a house rather than inside.

Directors held an unscheduled executive session following the open meeting to discuss salary schedules.

Ross Joins Ham Operator Group

Robert B. Ross, 167 Camino Pablo, Orinda, has been awarded membership in the DX Century Club, exclusive society of amateur radio operations who have made two-way short-wave radio contacts with at least 100 countries and colonies of the world.

Residents Expect To Take Protests To Supervisors

Spokesmen for organizations in the Happy Valley and Sleepy Hollow areas expect to meet to decide on further action in the routing of Bear Creek Road along the south side of Briones Reservoir.

Attorney Robert Davis, 18 Normandy Lane, Orinda, who represented the Sleepy Hollow Recreation Association at the County Planning Commission meeting Tuesday night, said he thinks routing of Bear Creek Road around the south side of the Briones Reservoir will eventually result in duplication.

Davis believes the northwestern side of the lake will have to be opened within a few years, and that such a road would serve the Briones area as well.

THE PRESENT routing of the road will affect the recreation association and will cause the removal of one or two homes, Davis said, but his main contention is that the road is needless.

Commissioner Boone Robinson said he disagrees with this belief—rather, he said, should the northwestern road be built first, the south side road would still be necessary and duplication would result.

Robert Kahn, president of the Happy Valley Improvement Association, believes that before further expenditures are committed, the entire program for Briones Park should be reviewed.

KAHN SAID Faustman's assumptions are not valid, in his opinion, in view of EBMUD and county officials' recommending the opening of other reservoirs for recreational purposes.

Consideration should be given to consolidating any development of Briones Reservoir with a county park, he believes.

The proposed routing, Kahn said, might open up the Briones area long before the park is constructed.

Victor Kingston, president of the Orinda Association, said it was likely that spokesmen for interested residents would meet to work out a recommendation to deliver to the Board of Supervisors.

Charles Lohse Has New Book on Selling in Print

Charles F. Lohse, 54 Miraloma Road, Orinda, has had a book published by Charles Scribner's Sons, titled Creative Selling.

The book not only tells about creative thinking in selling but how to achieve it as well. Lohse says his book deals with salesmen using imagination in relation to clients, rather than with the "brainstorming" type of creativity, which is better suited to group use.

SOME OF the chapter titles give an idea of the book's content. "The Difference Between Halfway and the Top," "How to Make Ideas Make You Worth More," "Creative Thinking to a Better Answer."

Lohse thinks the "idea" is the thing in selling—how to get it and how to present it.

Planners Recommend Bear Creek Relocation

By CONNIE PIKE

The Contra Costa County Planning Commission Tuesday night approved the relocation of Bear Creek Road between Orinda and Lafayette despite the objections of local improvement associations and other organizations.

In a 6-0 vote, with one member abstaining, commissioners accepted the recommendations of D. Jackson Faustman.

This would permit the relocation of Bear Creek Road on the south side of the proposed Briones Reservoir.

The commission's recommendation will be made in the form of a resolution at Tuesday's meeting, and will then go to the Board of Supervisors.

FAUSTMAN was employed by the county to study the relocation, which may be required when the present road will be inundated by the East Bay Municipal Utility District's Briones Reservoir.

The commission overrode protests from Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association, the Happy Valley Improvement Association, the Orinda Association and the Sleepy Hollow Recreation Association.

Faustman said his report was made on the assumptions that the Briones Reservoir would not be developed for recreational uses, neighboring EBMUD reservoirs would not be recreationally developed, and the proposed Briones Park would be developed.

AT A MEETING between EBMUD and county officials in July, two utility district subcommittees recommended the opening of the Lafayette, Chabot and Briones reservoirs to boating, fishing and picnicking. An executive committee to be formed August 8 by the district will make further studies of the recommendation.

Robert Kahn of the Happy Valley Improvement Association believed a complete study should be made in light of possible recreational development of these areas before going ahead with any road.

Some persons present thought Faustman's assumptions, on which his report was based, were not valid.

FAUSTMAN STATED that no road into the area was economically justifiable, but with the development of Briones Park a road to handle increased traffic would be necessary.

The county is purchasing 1455 acres in the Briones Valley area for the park. Four parcels of land have been obtained at a cost of $280,000, and six additional parcels will be purchased, at a total cost of $700,000. In additional 670 acres more will be needed to bring the park to the edge of the lake on the east end.

Attorney Robert Davis, a Sleepy Hollow resident and member of the Sleepy Hollow Recreation Association, believed the south route would cut into Sleepy Hollow's plans for recreational use of certain areas, and that a route to the northwestern side of the lake would better open the area to recreational and commercial development.

REPRESENTATIVES of the Orinda Association asked the commission to defer action, pending further study.

Commissioner Boone Robinson questioned the park director on recreational uses of the Briones area. The director said the park department recommended a park there in 1955.

He pointed out there is about a 25-foot depth in the lake at the east end, where a boat launching would be feasible, but not at the west end.

Faustman added the development would be similar to Tilden Park.

COMMISSIONER Arthur Young asked whether Faustman had evaluated the impairment of property values in the area due to access roads. Faustman said it would make no difference in most areas. In a section north of Sleepy Hollow one house would have to be moved, he said, but there would be no other damages. No changes would be effected on Upper Happy Valley Road, he added.

When Robinson offered a motion approving Faustman's report, a few catcalls and audible remarks were heard from the audience.

Young, attempting to ask further questions, was cut off by the chairman, who called for a vote. There were six yes votes, and Young passed.

Boone Robinson Gives Reasons For Road Route

Planning commissioner Boone Robinson told The Sun he voted for the routing of Bear Creek Road along the south side of Briones Reservoir because he believes it will best serve the interests of the county.

In addition to county engineers, both the Tudor and Faustman consultants recommended it as the cheapest and best for future development.

Robinson said he believes the alternative residents really preferred was that of no road at all into the Briones Park area. But he added, a road would ultimately be needed, and opening of Briones Park made it necessary immediately.

WITHOUT a new road heavier traffic would use Upper Happy Valley Road, ultimately tieing into Sleepy Hollow Road, he said.

"I am at a loss," he said, "to understand how the residents of Happy Valley and Sleepy Hollow will be damaged."

A northern road would be more expensive, Robinson pointed out, since it would pass through a slide area, and it would not serve the interests of the county.

Also, he said, developing that area is not desirable. There are two reservoirs with a green belt between, and the south road will serve Orinda's interests by stopping development to the north.

ONE OF the big problems in metropolitan areas, Robinson noted, is preserving these green belts wherever possible.

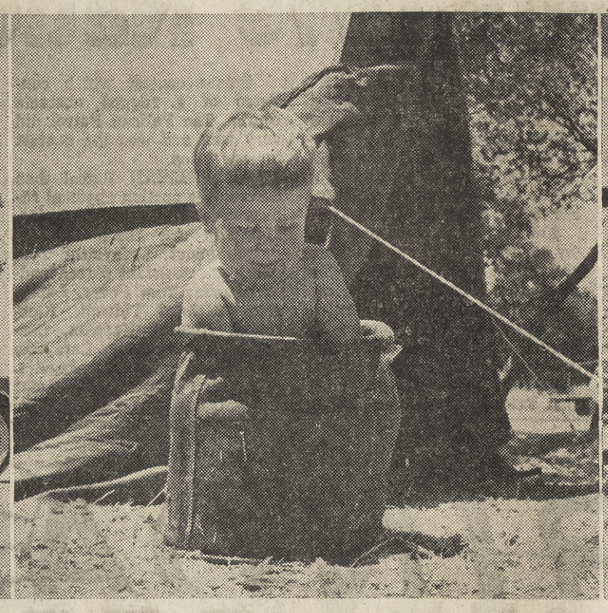
In addition, he said, development of this remote area is not economically feasible.

Robinson said he did not think the southern road would be duplicated eventually with a northwestern road. Instead, he said, should the northern road be built first, the southern road would still need to be built.

Robinson denied he had stated publicly or privately that he was opposed to the south side routing of Bear Creek Road.

Hot Weather Got You? Pardee Reservoir Can Be Cool!

ON THE HOTTEST day of the year at Pardee Reservoir, with the mercury standing at 112 degrees, young Fabian Lomas' mother, Marian, prepares to keep him cool.



THE ORIGINAL IDEA was to have a drink of cool water, but Fabian took over plans when he climbed into the water pail. It's a snug fit, but if you're 20 months old, you can do it.

NOW THAT FABIAN'S IN, it's pretty crowded with all that water, too. Something has to go. He decides to make more space for himself by spilling the water out.

NOW THAT THE WATER'S GONE, it's no longer cool inside the pail. Mother will simply have to go for more water. With the more important item in first, this time Marian will just fill in around the edges.

Suburbia Scribblings

Something for the Boys!

at Camp Wallace last wknd., I doubt I'd be sitting here w/a black & blue toe soaking in hot water. No Scout Leader will pin a merit badge on me, not after tne novel & novice way I played a game of Baseball.

For more about that, you'll have to read on—but I'm warning you, it's all Scout Stuff about the big reunion of local families & scouts that took place last wknd. far up the Feather River at Camp Wallace Alexander . . .

ALONG WITH FORTY other local boys from Orinda & Lafayette, our son Chip was having his first taste of Scout Camp life at the camp endowed by the philanthropist who built that beautiful home here years ago on Los Arabis.

We missed the boy & the letters were scanty but he was on his own, getting a rest from us & vice versa, doing the things all boys should be doing & we thought "leave well enough alone." THEN some old-timer parent mentioned "family weekend." We confirmed our reservations & conformed. Saturday morn we arose at 6 & made the long hot drive up the scenic route arriving at Camp for lunch.

DOWN THE DUSTY ROAD to be greeted by Eagle Scout Steve Cantrill who directed us to a parking . . . Bill Loughman standing in the doorway of a screened cabin, recognized our car & suddenly out shot our beaming boy in sore need of a haircut, pleased as punch we had shown up!

We had time before lunch to take a quick look around . . . especially to visit the living quarters . . . a neat arrangement of green wooden buildings, screened & sparsely furnished w/cots for sleeping bags, each boy's gear stored in crate boxes. BOYS bunking together in Cabin #14 & our son were quick to show us around, full of talk of their recent accomplishments . . . Doug Fastabend was expecting his parents any minute . . . Greg Filice, a cake box from home sitting on his bed, introduced us to his uncle Mr. Moore who came over from Quincy where he owns the popular Spanish Creek Motel; Ken Twining on the run.

NEATLY SQUARED AWAY were all the fellows in their summer uniforms of green shorts, green shortsleeve shirts & red & green scarves . . . I took one look at the bulging laundry bags & steeled myself against offering my services.

ASSEMBLY at the flag pole on the sole spot of green lawn was called by the blare of a bugle . . . & on the double, the boys stood at attention in their groups answering muster to Sr. Patrol leader Cantrill.

Anyone for Seconds?

Then the luncheon bell . . . The Bruce Howards coming up for the day & arriving in time for lunch & a full afternoon w/Doug . . . Howard Gravelle's parents picking him up & then taking him off for a wknd. treat to Reno

CHOW LINE & a reasonable wait . . . Charlie Eldred telling us of the 5-day circuit hike he took, 65 miles on rations & in that long period of time seeing only 3 people along the River . . . We hailed the Jay Gordon Ainsworths who were sitting down w/Jay. Big Jay wearing a big straw, a memento of their Mexican holiday & young Jay looking well after another earlier 5-day circuit trip on which Al Harmon & Brian Moriarty were along & all earning themselves a letter of commendation from the U.S. Forestry Dept. They had spotted the start of a forest fire, reported it & fought it until help arrived. (Small world—on another 3-day hike, the Orinda boys set up camp & spotted some Orinda Girl Scouts camping near by.)

ANYONE FOR SECONDS? We moved along in line w/the Bill Gilmores who were making a first-time visit, too . . . The Mess Hall (always so appropriately named) was decorated w/painted wooden shields by campers of yesteryears . . . ONE of the staff plaques, circa 1939, bore the name of our friend Harold Bowers as well as other local men whose SONS are now campers . . .

SCOTT TYLER greeting his parents, the Harry Tylers . . . Orinda Fathers Roger Bond & Don Woodcock up to spend this week as Troop Leaders of #247 . . . Andy Calhoun, Nicky Daniloff, Mike Yetter, Harold Bond, Jim Brock & Tom Gilmore "singing for their supper."

CANTEEN Time & letters from home . . . "Pops" Bill Lee & Bill Gilmores, both wearing what they called their "Oroville Specials" (straw hats) making color slides of the kids reading their mail at the green hut . . Drew Hartanov lost in the lines of a long letter . . . Mike Gilmore's knee-length sox sporting tasseled red garters, de rigeur for the summer uniform . . . Richard Roos, whose parents were coming up mid-week on Wed. to pick him up & proceed their summer peregrinations elsewhere.

A RUSTIC GAZEBO house hewn of logs perfect for reading the home-town papers . . . Here, we met the young medical officer, Dr. Ted Maloney, son of the medic Maloneys of Happy Valley . . . The only casualties so far, hot cocoa burns & a few harmless snake bites. The friendly cowpuncher in charge of the riding horses kidded by the kids for being so spruced & spiffed up for the Family Weekend . . . Sea Scout Phil Gardner, in greens by day & his navy serge by night, w/his friendly smile, hello, & red hair . . . Larry Holmgren, Roy Pagnello.

HUGS & HANDSHAKES all around . . . None of us surprised that our boys looked so well & happy . . . (Perhaps because they don't drink coffee yet & the coffee was BAD . . . like so much India ink!) Jim Slemp, Russell Birkhead, John Weatherbee, a trio of Lafayette lads. Bryan Enbom introducing his parents the Tyko Enboms of Happy Valley who are rock-hounds, we were glad to see, stashing a few slabs of grey rock into their car just like WE do on every outing.

A WATER CARNIVAL in the shade of the old swimming Hole in Spanish Creek was the big afternoon attraction . . . the scouts doing special stunts & demonstrations in life-saving, etc. . . . Our boy the champion floater (25 min. sans moving a muscle) we chided for "being so full of hot air" but he took it in his usual humorous stride.

IN THE SWIM, Geoff Reiser, Bill & Bob Lee, Ray Brown diving . . . Steve Douglass & John Simpson working out their smooth sidestrokes for their merit badges.

The Norman Millers w/Gail & young Mike arriving to see son Jon . . . At supper that eve, little Mike sat in his boodle seat on a table smiling & looking like he was "counting the house." Later, mid meal when the goings-on got noisey w/yells & hoorays, me thinks Mike protesteth w/a loud wail (& we can't blame him!) that it was too much for HIM!

THE STAN HUNNS on hand, their son Larry Hunn doing camp duties as Chief Head Steward . . . Craig & Todd Crawshaw, Kit Renwick grinning over the skits they'd planned for the evening campfire.

It Helps to Be Prepared!

UP TO THE STABLES for an after-dinner ride . . . The Bill Thompsons hiking up the road . . . their little blonde lass stopping to pet the old nanny goat. She later put her hand in Dick Bottjer's walking back to camp & asked Mr. B. "Is your Daddy up here, too" "No, not this time," said Daddy-o B! Jean & Dick's boy Jan one of the veteran campers, ditto Gary Woodcock.

A BASEBALL GAME in the twilight hours before dark & campfire program . . . We sat on the logs & cheered w/the Gilmores, the Fred Twinings, their daughter Jan & Carol Gilmore & all of a sudden, scout's game finished, we had an idea! It took no coaxing to start a game on the big ball diamond, the Orinda women vs. the Orinda men. (We should have kept our Big Mouth Shut!)

WAY OFF BASE . . . Age before beauty, NEVER . . . so the gals were up at bat by their age, but the younger ones first . . . Naturally, that put Carol Gilmore & Jan Twining up first (we borrowed them for support!); Bobby Reiser in a spic & span red, white & striped cotton, whacking a hard one far afield & running like the dickens. I hit one & couldn't even make it to First Base!

Winnie Gilmore pitching some curves . . . Jack Reiser slugging a beaut high & far as the pines & THEN I met my waterloo!

I was 3rd baseman, one foot daintly perched on a huge boulder used for base & hog it I did, block it I did, while Jack came charging on. Then came the collission!!!!!

JACK FELL DOWN & BROKE HIS crown & I came tumbling after, easy & over. According to dance teach Gilmore, it was a darn graceful one-&-a-half over backwards, Jack's full weight on our big left toe! OH!

Just like in the comic books & cartoons, I saw stars, I heard a birdy sing & then we all got hysterical laughing! What a ball game & we'll do it again sometime!

If Mr. R. looks slightly ravaged & resplendently black & blue to you, he's probably being a gentleman & saying he got charged by a bear. (Gen Cantrill promised to write this bit up but we haven't heard a word from HER. Maybe she's resting up too after base-chasing & thumping heart! Ooooh, are WE out of condition!)

DUSK & CALL TO CAMPFIRE . . . Up the dusty road, down the hollow glen, to sing & laugh & share the life of Our Young MEN who put on a terrific if not slightly overlong show . . . Skits were a far cry from my Cub Den Mother days & we enjoyed every minute of it . . . What Hams! Jimmie James, Wally Reudrich, Harold Bond, Lou Browning giving their ALL, to name a few.

A hush falling over the crowd as the fire burned low & the camp program concluded w/old-timer Ranger Fields, 84-yr. old mountain man recounting a true story of tracking the big 'bars' which used to be so plentiful in that country.

THEN DAY WAS DONE, & was it the cooling breeze or the boys forming a circle to softly speak their Scout oath together that sent little shivers through us? Parents & kids parted, the boys to bunk & the families to the local motels where they were billeted.

STAYING AT THE EL RANCHITO MOTEL were Dyke DeWitt's parents, the Bid DeWitts—& Bob DeWitt's mother & dad, Bob & Rita., the former driving up in their white "hotrod" Mercedes . . . Others disbursed to Gee-Gee's, the Pine Hill, Spanish Creek, etc., but all of us, wherever we stayed, were weary, footsore & welcomed the cool clean sheets after a long-running hot shower.

NEXT MORN at Ranchito, our dghtr. w/a cold & Leona Hunn (bless her) to the rescue w/instant coffee-maker for us & cough medicine for our child . . . A drive over to Camp for the tradition "PUG UGLY PARADE" . . . Much picture-taking of the motely crew hardly recognizable & garbed in everything from girls' bathing suits to mattress covers & hula skirts . . . Steve Cantrill on his unicycle; Stove black for Ricky Thompson, a straw-hatted native, & a rakish red hat on Bill Loughman in the Fire Marshal group . . . The sightem of young Brad Reiser bending over to pick up a 3-in. long stag beetle & letting it crawl up his arm!

Orinda Girls Leave Sun. For Olympic Tryouts

Two Miramonte High School girls will leave Sunday to try for spots on the United States women's swimming team for the Olympic Games in Rome.

Carolyn Schulen, 17, a recent graduate and Susie Barkely, 15, who will be a sophomore, will represent the Berkeley YMCA.

Miss Schuler will compete in the 100 meter butterfly and the 100 meter freestyle, with her best chance in the butterfly. At the National AAU indoor championships she was second to Nancy Ramey.

Miss Barkley will try for a spot in the individual 100 meter freestyle and also in the freestyle relay. Originally she was aiming for the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

However, her time has improved over the 100 distance meter to the point she stands a good chance of making the relay squad.

The Olympic trials will be held in Detroit from August 2 through 5. More than a dozen East Bay swimmers will be in the competition for the coveted trip to Rome.

Youth Takes Challenge; Pockets Jingle Happily

Local teenagers have found that it pays to advertise! Literally hundreds of them have taken advantage of The Sun's free want ad offer, through which any youngster could place a 10-word classified ad in The Sun and Sun Shopping News for free . . . and they got results!

This issue was the last in which this offer was valid, and any youngsters who did not take advantage of the program—or those who wish to continue with their results—will have to place classified ads at the regular price from now on—at least until next summer.

BUT THOSE who did take advantage of the offer found themselves as busy as they wanted to be, and their pockets jingled accordingly.

Here are some of the samples of ads that youngsters placed during the past few weeks. It will give an indication of the abilities and ingenuity of some of our youngsters:

Bill Latone, AT 3-2385, 16, will do anything.

Art, 16, has had experience in dishwashing. YE 4-3818.

Radios fixed. Low cost. Call Keith, 16, AT 3-3782.

STEVE, 14, will do anything at your hours. AT 3-3612.

John, 17, garden maintenance and odd jobs. AT 3-3130.

Warren, 17, experienced stock clerk, yard grooming, etc. YE 5-2935.

Barbara, 16, baby sitting, odd jobs. YE 4-5087.

'Low' County Assessments Are Hurting School Districts

Although a county-wide re-appraisal program is well under way, the California board of equalization feels that Contra Costa's property assessments are too low.

Several years ago, the state stepped in and increased county assessments "across-the-board" to bring them in line with the rest of the state.

It is considered unlikely this will happen again, due to the re-appraisal program, but the school districts may still suffer.

COUNTY Assessor C. L. Dunklee said he has been advised by the state that Contra Costa is assessing property at only 21.5 per cent of market value, compared to the statewide average of 23.5 per cent of market value.

Dunklee said he does not agree with this, and the county is actually assessing on a 27 per cent figure.

The state board of equalization's figures will be challenged by the county next month, and school districts will be watching.

The state figures concerning county assessments are used by the state department of education in determining semi-annual state grants to schools.

WHERE assessments are low, state aid is reduced.

Last year, Mt. Diablo School District's apportionment was reduced by $176,864, Richmond Elementary School District by $83,329, Richmond Union High District $87,284, and Acalanes High School District $33,000.

Mt. Diablo High School District was forced to levy a 12 cent additional tax this year to make up the loss, and the two Richmond districts had to levy lesser additional taxes.

County Welfare Victory Draws Federal Interest

Superior Judge Norman Gregg's ruling in favor of using the lie detector in Contra Costa County Department of Welfare investigations, upsetting a State Board of Social Welfare decision favoring a 33-year-old Richmond woman, may have dramatic results on the state and even the federal levels.

There have been hints that the Federal Government may hold back welfare funds for California, or may insist that the state pursue the matter more vigorously.

But this has not been confirmed by Attorney General Stanley Mosk, and he has not indicated whether the state will appeal Gregg's decision.

ALSO CONTRA Costa District Attorney John Nejedly has said he will, if necessary, carry on court appeals against any later court reversal of Gregg's decision, and will argue for state legislative reforms in the welfare program.

Such legislation has already been called for by the Contra Costa County Republican Central Committee, which adopted a resolution praising Nejedly for "endeavoring to overcome welfare aid abuses through thrifty prudent administration," and criticizing the state for its interference in county matters.

Right now, Board of Supervisors Chairman Mel Nielsen is unhappy with Jacobus ten Broek, chairman of the State Board of Social Welfare.

Ten Broek cancelled last Friday's hearing in Los Angeles, where Contra Costa County had been ordered to "show" cause why some $4 millions in state and federal funds should not be withheld from the local Aid to Needy Children and other welfare funds.

THIS WAS the threat made when county welfare officials cut the monthly welfare check of Mrs. Eula Henderson of Richmond from $310 to $208, on the basis that Mrs. Henderson would not give the name of the father of her youngest illegitimate child, and would not submit to a lie detector test.

Nielsen said the supervisors had cancelled all other business; Nejedly had prepared to go to Los Angeles; and many other interested communities and organizations had prepared to attend.

Ten Broek had said in his telegram to Nejedly that the hearing had been cancelled because the matter had been submitted to Superior Court.

Gregg, in his 12-page decision, said in part: ". . . That such tests (lie detector) are commonly used by law enforcement agencies, have value in the investigation and detection of crime and can serve to guide police investigators has been judicially recognized in this state."

GREGG SAID that Mrs. Henderson's failure to submit to examination was a refusal of reasonable assistance to law enforcement officers under the Welfare and Institutions Code.

He added, "While asking all relief applicants to take a polygraph examination might be unreasonable, in this case before the district attorney instituted criminal proceedings . . . it would be unreasonable not to exhaust every investigative aid . . ."

Gregg added, ". . . I reject the suggestion that administration of the plan (ANC) by the counties . . . with supervisory review by the State Welfare Board, subject however to judicial review under . . . the law . . . will result in loss of federal grants."

"The Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare certainly is aware of the many cases dealing with the administration of the law and subjecting the . . . Board to judicial review, and I am sure would not contend the board is above the law," Gregg said.

THE SIDE of Contra Costa County in the fight has been taken by many city councils, individuals and organizations, many of whom have pledged continued support.

Nejedly commented, ". . . Illegitimacy is no longer a social problem—it is an economic asset.

"The children live in a continuing environment of promiscuity and accepting this environment as the social norm continue in this practice when they are old enough to have children of their own."

Here's a Thought...

It's Not The Cows That Cause Cowboys Trouble

By CONNIE PIKE

Most children at some time want to be cowboys. Most of them do not become cowboys--they become doctors, stroekeepers, nurses, housewives, or anything at all. But seldom cowboys.

It seems too bad—there are plenty of cows and horses around here. We decided to take our children riding and let them pretend, and to work out a little of our childhood trauma at the same time.

The children and their father were soon gracefully mounted, patting their horses tenderly and talking in some people-horse language I'd never heard, but which seemed native to them. I felt very much out of things.

THEIR HORSES looked normal, just the way they do on television, only larger. But when the stable boy brought mine out, he looked nine feet tall. I'd met horses before, although I'm not really friendly with them.

"Isn't he rather large?" I asked.

"Baldy's big, lady, but he can carry a heavy load," the boy said, looking me up and down. "Here, hold him a minute and don't let him run away."

He disappeared inside the stable.

I gingerly held onto the reins, and feeling braver after a minute, I peeked at Baldy.

HE SWUNG his head near me and grinned. I grinned back.

He took a step toward me, and I took a step back. Encouraged, he took another step and so did I. Soon it appeared that I was taking him for a little walk. That's because I kept one jump ahead—in reality, Baldy was taking me for a walk.

Where it might have ended I don't know, but the stable boy returned.

"You bring Baldy back here," he shouted, waving his arms and coming after us. He dashed up and took the reins, patting Baldy soothingly.

It wasn't Baldy who needed soothing. I looked over to see the children and their father laughing. You know, just sitting smugly astride their horses and breaking up all over.

THE STABLE boy insisted on giving me a leg up, though I protested all the way.

"I'm afraid of him," I confessed.

"Baldy wouldn't hurt a flea," the boy said. "Just show him who's boss."

"He already knows," I murmured, trying to get down.

It was too late. The others started off and Baldy followed. When they walked he walked, and this was satisfactory. I sat tall in the saddle, held on with one hand, and waved my hat to passers-by. But when they ran, he ran, and I was busy sticking on.

After half-an-hour we started back. Father led the triumphal return, the children followed smartly, and Mother brought up a straggly rear.

BACK AT the ranch the ride was declared a huge success. The children bubbled over about the beautiful, wonderful, FAST horses, and asked the boy to keep the same ones for them the next day.

He promised and write in a book, "Tommy, Pearl, Brownie, Gilda and Baldy."

"Uh—never mind reserving Baldy," I told him. "I expect to be busy tomorrow."

"Okay, lady. After today Baldy needs a day off," he said.

And so another childhood ghost was laid.

I do not want to be a cowboy.

Pony Express Will Deliver Mail Tomorrow Morning

The Pony Express is coming through!

ROBERT B. ROSS, superintendent of mails, Orinda Post Office, will attend the transfer of mail at Orinda.

The Pony Express will arrive at Moraga Post Office at about 10 o'clock, where the Junior and Senior Horsemen's Associations will hold a celebration.

Commemorating the 100th anniversary year of the founding of the Pony Express, the re-run began in St. Joseph, Mo., July 19, and arrived in Sacramento July 28.

The California State Horsemen's Association is sponsoring the re-enactment of the Sacramento to San Francisco ride, and riders are following as nearly as feasible the original route.

LETTERS from Postmaster General Summerfield, which started from St. Joseph, are carried in the mochila, and the entire distance will be traveled on horseback, except for necessary ferrying.

After passing through Lafayette, Orinda and Moraga, the rider will arrive at Jack London Square at 12 noon.

Eighty Miles of County Roads to be Surfaced

Eighty miles of Contra Costa County roads are being seal-coated this year.

The work began in June and will be completed by the middle of August.

The County Public Works crews are on the job in Lafayette and Orinda now.

They will start in Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and Martinez areas next Thursday.

THEY HAVE already completed Danville.

The seal coat consists of two successive applications of asphaltic emulsion, each sovered with a layer of stone chips.

The specially equipped crew is able to complete one and one-half to two miles of street per day.

To obtain a first class job it is necessary that the street be dry and unobstructed. To insure this the department distributes a notice a day or so in advance of the operation which requests that the residents cooperate by parking off the street and by preventing garden water from flowing into the street.

HERE ARE the roads which will be seal-coated in the Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, and Martinez areas:

Kahrs Avenue from Boyd Road to Gregory Lane; Helen Road from Gregory Lane, to Gladys Drive; Rose Lane from Gladys Drive to Maureen Lane; Helen Road from Maureen Lane to Lucille Lane; Nancy Lane (west to east) from Elinora Drive to end; Betty Lane (each to west) from Elinora Drive to end; Blum Road from State Highway to end; Austin Way from Blum Road to end.

You're to Blame for 2200 Flies

Your garbage can is producing 1131 adult flies per week, according to Ernest Campbell, manager of the Contra Costa Mosquito Abatement District.

He added that since the average life of the fly in summertime is two weeks, each garbage can accounts for about 2200 flies in your neighborhood on any given day.

They are very annoying to picnickers and create unsanitary conditions, he said.

CAMPBELL ADDED:

"The particular flies which breed in garbage cans are the fast-developing green blow flies which complete development of the larval or maggot phase in less than a week.

"The mature maggots crawl out of the can and seek concealment in the soil near the garbage can, or they may crawl 70 feet or more if necessary to find concealment. Here they are transformed into pupae and in a day or so the adult fly emerges to plague the neighborhood.

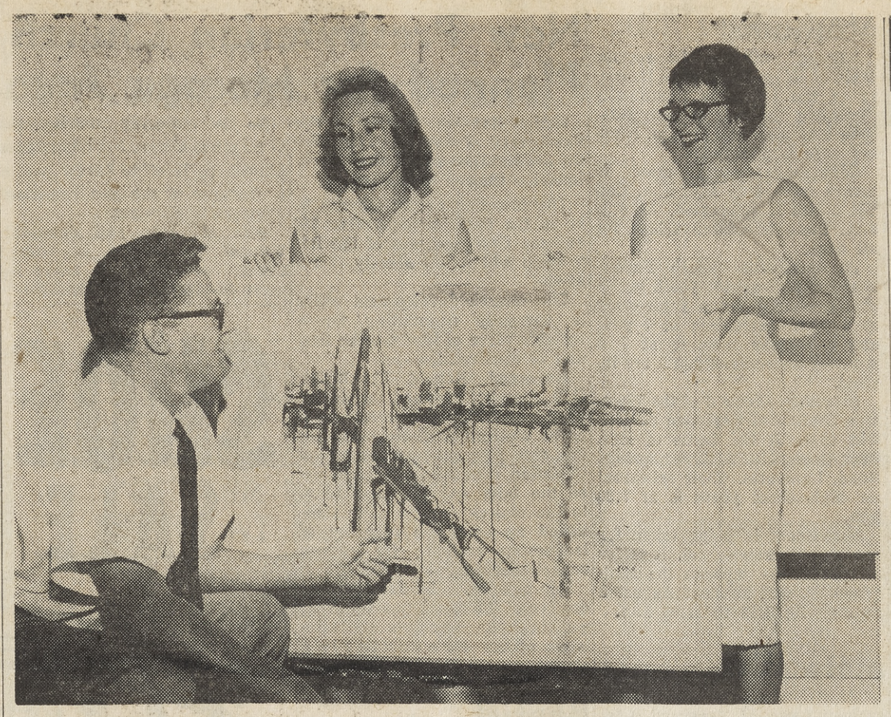
TO PREVENT these flies:

1. Drain and securely wrap all waste food in three or more thicknesses of newspaper;

2. OR use a sink disposal garbage grinder to dispose of waste food;

3. OR establish twice-a-week community garbage collection.

Another source of home-grown flies are piled lawn clippings which breed houseflies and Lesser houseflies. Lawn clippings should be spread thinly to dry or otherwise properly disposed of to prevent a fly nuisance, he said.



THE DIABLO Pageant of Art's new rental and sales gallery in the quonset hut, east of the Walnut Creek channel, will feature quality art, like that of Robert Jensen, at left. This is one of his works, and it gets appreciation from the gallery co-directors, Mrs. Edward Styskel, center, and Mrs. Harold Butzbach.

Church Council Sends Clothing For Chile Relief

The Council of Churches of Central Contra Costa recently shipped 1500 pounds of clothing for Chilean relief through the auspices of Church World Service, via its Modesto office.

The local council consists of 33 churches in the central part of the county, who unite together for common witness and common projects, said the executive director, The Reverend Philip J. Daunton.

The local council is part of the National Council of Churches, and through it of the World Council of Churches.

Recently received news from the World Council on Chilean relief is as follows: "169,000 dwellings in the 10 provinces have been destroyed or damaged with losses exceeding $400,000,000. Damage runs as high as 95% in Chile where there are 121,000 homeless and 80% in Arauco where 73,600 are homeless. In addition 100 of the 300 Protestant churches in the area with full-time pastors were destroyed.

Army Reservist Named Best in Summer Training

U. S. Army Reservists, members of the local Company C, 361st Regiment, brought home a trophy as the honor company of their regiment after two weeks of summer training at Camp Roberts.

Capt. Wallace Golbeck's men, including six other officers and 32 men, were also pleased to hear that their regiment, commanded by Colonel MacKenzie Porter of Lafayette, received the highest rating of the five regiments at camp.

They are units of the 91st U. S. Army Reserve training division.

COMPANY C men consistently received superior ratings for such subjects as field training, firing range, mess hall, supply, military courtesy and discipline, staff.

They also hope their battalion, under Major George C. Grubb of Orinda, will be chosen next year or in the near future, to conduct special training at Fort Ord, in recognition of their outstanding performance.

The local company's headquarters are at 1768 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

Eight enlisted men from the company didn't go to Camp Roberts, because they are taking six months training at Fort Ord, fulfilling their obligations under Reserve Forces Act of 1955.

CAPT. GOLBECK said that recently all his officers and noncommissioned officers took correspondence courses from the Infantry School, Ft. Benning, Ga.

Much of this special training is coordinated by Company C's Master Sergeant Robert Conner of Walnut Creek, who acts as first sergeant.

Company advisor is Regular Army Master Sergeant Talbert Taylor.

Company officers are First Lieutenants Charles Miller, executive officer, John Cashman and Richard Meyer, all of Walnut Creek; Donald Wood of Danville, Donald Bracelin of Berkeley and Daniel McCarthy of Oakland.

LT. WOOD was promoted to his new rank during field training, along with several enlisted men, listed as follows:

Staff Sergeant Kenneth Hem of Martinez, Sergeants Barron McDonald of Pleasant Hill, Michael Souza of Walnut Creek, Jimmie Timms of Walnut Creek; Corporals Overton Abel of Lafayette, Hector Leslie of Oakland, Gerald Littlefield of Concord; Specialists Gayle Martin of Concord, Roger Smith of Lafayette, Joseph Crume of Livermore.

James Mecham Named Manager By Shell Co.

James G. Mecham of 2451 Newell Avenue, Walnut Creek, has been named manager of Shell Oil Company's San Francisco division asphalt department.

He will handle the firm's asphalt sales throughout the coastal regions of Northern California.

He replaced J. C. Dalton who transferred to New York.

Mecham, born in Blackfoot, Idaho, attended the University of Idaho where he was awarded a bachelor's degree in civil engineering in 1950. He joined Shell in 1955 as an asphalt representative.

Mecham and his wife, Betty, have three children, Craig, 9, Jolene, 7, and Steve, 2.

Obituaries

Effie Foster

Funeral services for Mrs. Effie Foster, 90, of 1672 Oak Park Boulevard, were held Wednesday in the Chapel of the Chimes, Oakland.

She died Monday in a Concord rest home.

She was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, Amaranth, Rebekah and Patriarc's Militant, all of San Francisco.

Survivors are a son, Bates Hague, and two grandchildren, all of Walnut Creek.

Byron Sovea

Requiem Mass for Byron Sovea, 69, of 4214 Walnut Creek Boulevard, was offered Wednesday at St. Mary's Catholic Church.

A former Chicago policeman, he died Saturday at his home.

He was a member of the local American Legion, the Holy Name Society of the church, and a World War I veteran.

He is survived by his widow, Rose; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Force, three grandchildren, all of Walnut Creek; and a sister, Mrs. Anna Tews of Chicago.

The Rosary was recited Tuesday at MacFarlane-Bryant Chapel, Concord.

Health Service Opens Office

A new kind of counseling service is available at the Institute of Social and Personal Relations which has opened offices at 1372 Main Street, Walnut Creek.

Dr. Jack Little, staff member, said, "Consultation on human relationship problems is provided, using primarily the real-life relationships that develop through group interaction. Counseling is done with the entire family as a group, or with a group of teenagers, or groups of married couples, men and women, all men, all women, etc. Individual counseling is also available, as well as psychological testing."

The professional staff includes psychologists, social workers, educators, economists and other social scientists, he said.

An organization, called Community Associates, will assist in making these counseling services as available and suited to local needs as possible.

Membership includes Mrs. Frank P. Lonergan of Danville, chairman; Mrs. Charles Baumann, Orinda; Mrs. Janis Janssen, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Albert Maas, Pleasant Hill, and Mrs. J. Vaughn Shahbazian, Alamo.

The Institute has been in operation in Oakland for more than five years.

Its primary emphasis has been on "preventive mental health", using the newer approaches of "therapeutic community" and "group dynamics." Among those of the staff who will be working in the Contra Costa office are Little, formerly chief psychologist at Oakland Naval Hospital, and Adena Joy, formerly with the University of California as a human relations specialist.

400 Scouts, Scouters To Golden Jubilee Event

Over 400 Scouts and Scouters of the Concord, Delta, John Muir, Meridian and Camp Herms Districts participated in the Golden Jubilee Camporee held last weekend at the U. S. Naval Ammunition Depot, Concord.

Arrangements were made through Captain Frank Winnant, Jr., now retired, who was the commanding officer of the base until June 30. Lt. Frank Saxton was assigned as liason officer.

Last Friday a campfire was held. Scouter Dick Jenkins of the John Muir district acted as master of ceremonies.

THE MOLUK Chapter of the Order of the Arrow Lodge entertained Scouts with Indian dances. Songs, stunts and skits by the troops rounded out the evening's program.

On Saturday, competitive events were held, Winners were as follows:

Crosscut Saw—First, Wolverine Patrol, Troop 415, Pleasant Hill; Second, Boston Patrol, Troop 190, Shore Acres; Third, Panther Patrol, Troop 368, Concord.

Heaving Line — First, Panther Patrol, Troop 368, Concord; Second, Eagle Patrol, Troop 165, Concord; Third, Covered Indians Patrol, Troop 213, Alamo.

In addition to the competitive events, all 56 Patrols from the 24 troops represented were judged on their camping skills and awarded standard or proficiency ribbons for their performance.

All Scouts attending received the Jubilee Camporee patch. All camp cookery was done over charcoal, which was a new method for many of the Troops.

ON SATURDAY Harry Knudsen, representing the Sports Chalet of Pleasant Hill and the Walnut Creek Sportsmen's Club, demonstrated methods of handling a rod and reel in plug casting.

In addition, Scouts were able to try their skill on the obstacle course, including the scaling wall, crawl under, hurdle and rail walk.

Sanitary facilities for the event were provided by the Gordon H. Ball Company.

The committee for the event were S. W. Ferguson of Concord, Leo Fancey of Antioch, Paul Dreyer of Lafayette and Carl Groshell of Martinez, with Brooks Kuehl, district executive of Concord, serving as advisor.

Byron Hot Springs to Be Revived

A famous local resort of the early 1900's—Byron Hot Springs—has been purchased by a group of Bay Area businessmen and is being developed into the area's first family country club.

The 209 acre property, located in Eastern Contra Costa County, was acquired recently by Bud Walsemann and Associates for $208,000. A one million dollar facility is planned. It is estimated that the club will be ready for the membership early next year, according to Walsemann.

Developers in addition to Walsemann include Ray Harmsworth of Hayward; attorney Richard Alberton of San Francisco; Eugene Jones of Berkeley and J. Branch Donelson of Richmond.

Initial financing has been provided by this group and further development monies will come from the sale of stock as approved by the Corporations Commissioner of the State of California.

Walsemann and Harmsworth are now living at the Byron Hot Springs Country Club directing the new project. Donelson heads the membership selection committee.

The new development will feature recreational activities for the entire family. Heading the list is a nine-hole golf course with driving range and putting green.

The course will be of professional calibre to be expanded to 18-holes at a later date.

The imposing old red brick hotel, as sturdy today as when it was constructed in 1916, will be retained for historic purposes as the center of club activities. It will be completely redecorated into a 38-room manor house with overnight suites available to the membership.

Complete dining and banquet facilities are being installed.

Go to Church Sunday

Lutheran

"The Leaven of Error" will be the sermon theme of Reverend Merle O. Tollefson at both the 8:15 and 9:30 a.m. services Sunday at Our Savior's Lutheran Church, 1035 Carol Lane, Lafayette. Nursery care is available for pre-school children.

During the summer Sunday school classes are held for only those in pre-school department through the third grade. The older children are encouraged to worship with their parents at the family service at 9:30 a.m.

Vacation church school will begin Monday morning at 9 o'clock and continue each morning for two weeks. All ages are invited to participate.

Midweek Bible study will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The adult inquiry class is conducted Thursday at 8 p.m.

Presbyterian

Family worship services will be held at the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church, 49 Crest Road, Lafayette, Sunday at 9 o'clock and 10:30 a.m.

Rev. William Carl Thomas will give the sermon, "Thomas — God's Honest Doubter, as one of a series on "People Who Met the Master."

Child care and classes for children up to five years will be provided at the 9 o'clock service, with older children attending worship services with their families. Child care for children up to age 2½ only will be provided at 10:30.

THE WESTMINSTER Campus Club and the Junior High Westminster Fellowship will hold their Sunday meetings in private homes. Contact the church office for details.

Session will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Summer Bible class schedule is as follows: For men and women, Sunday at 10:30 a.m., Voyagers, Fireside Room; and at 11:40 a.m. for college age young people, Fireside Room; and Couples class will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the church, under Miss Wetherell Johnson of the Bible Study Fellowship (this will be the final meeting of this class for the summer.

WOMEN'S classes will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m., 4050 Marianne Drive, Lafayette (nursery at the church); and Wednesday at 10 a.m., 3790 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette (call YE 4-6626 for baby sitter service).

Men's breakfast will be held Friday at 6:45 a.m. in the Fireside Room.

The Bible Study Fellowship classes for women will meet Thursday at 9:30 a.m. at the church (studying Genesis); and Thursday at 9:30 a.m., 4044 Valente Court, Lafayette (studying Exodus). Nursery at the church for children under five years.

Suburban Bible

Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock worship service of the Suburban Bible Church, Rev. Gray Lambert will speak on the subject, "The Thirty-Second Psalm—a Psalm of David."

At 10 o'clock graded Bible classes will be held for all ages at the Lafayette Veterans' Building, 3499 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, the present meeting place of the church. Nursery facilities are available for all regular services of the church and the public is invited.

Activities scheduled for the coming week include: Tuesday, the ladies' Bible class will meet at the home of Mrs. Raymond Wulfelt, 62 Rheem Boulevard, Orinda, at 10 a.m. to continue the study of the Book of Romans. Following the class Mrs. Wulfert will entertain the class at luncheon.

Tuesday evening the Suburban Youth Fellowship will meet at the home of one of the members of the group for swimming and a period of Christian fellowship at 7:30.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 the church family and friends will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Willhite of Walnut Creek for Bible study and prayer. At that time the church family will study to gain a broader understanding of the Biblical message as seen in historical perspective.

The church school staff is now making plans for a daily vacation Bible school which will be held Aug. 22-26. The classes will be held in the mornings from 10 till 12 daily, Monday through Friday, and the theme of the school will be "Know Your Bible."

Assembly of God

"Receiving the Promise" will be the sermon topic of Reverend R. A. Work at the 11 a.m. worship service of the Assembly of God Church, meeting in the Suburban Shopping Center, 3400 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

Sunday school with classes for all ages begins at 10 a.m. At 7:30 p.m. the evangelistic service is held. Rev. Charles Bradbury, the associate pastor, will speak.

Work has been started on the new Lafayette Assembly of God Church which will be located on Springbrook and Hillcroft Roads.

For further information regarding the church, call Rev. Work, MU 5-2378 or Rev. Bradbury, AT 3-3920.

Christian Science

An answer to problems of strife, jealousy, and hate will be set forth Sunday at all Christian Science churches.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda highway, Orinda; 1437 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and in Concord at the corner of Grant and Park Streets.

Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill holds its services at Kahrs Avenue and Boyd Road, Pleasant Hill, and Lafayette meets at 3422 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Love" are several inspiring experiences of David which includes Samuel's account of the sparing of Saul's life (I Sam. 26).

Citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include this statement on the protective power of divine Love:

"At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil. Clad in the panoply of Love, human hatred cannot reach you. The cement of a higher humanity will unite all interests in the one divinity" (571:15).

Episcopal

Reverend Reid Hammond, assistant rector of St. Clement's Church in Berkeley will be guest celebrant for the 8 a.m. Holy Communion of St. Anselm's Episcopal Church Sunday morning.

This will be held at the Chapel in the Valley, 985 Thompson Road, Lafayette. Morning prayer and address at 10 a.m. will follow at the Chapel in the Valley.

STANLEY SOMPTON, seminarian assistant for St. Anselm's will give the address and will be assisted by Charles Baake in the service.

There will be no church school during the summer months. Midweek Holy Communion will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. at Canterbury Chapel, 682 Michael Lane, with Rev. Phillip Thomas as celebrant.

Rev. Thomas of Mara Thoma Church in India will be in residence at St. Anselm's while Rev. Clarence Stacy and family are on vacation. Rev. Thomas is available for all parish calling, visitations, communions of the sick and all priestly functions during August. He may be reached at the vicarage, 682 Michael Lane.

SUNDAY evening the Alpha and Omega high school group will meet at 7:30. Stanley Compton, seminarian, is in charge of this group.

Episcopal

Services on the seventh Sunday after Trinity at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, St. Stephen's Drive and Las Vegas Road, Orinda, will be Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m. and morning prayer and ante-Communion at 9 and 10 a.m.

Reverend C. Corwin Calavan, rector, will conduct the services with the assistance of Rev. Melvin Brown, curate, and will preach. Donald Loach, choirmaster and organist, will play at the two later services.

The senior choir will assist the congregation with the musical portions of the service at 10 o'clock, and will sing as an offertory anthem, "Lord, For Thy Tender Mercies' Sake" by Farrant.

Officers of the Seabury Club will be installed at the 10 o'clock service. They are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Jelley, president; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mouser, vice president; and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nagel, secretary-treasurer.

Nursery care for children of all ages will be provided in the basement of the church during both later morning services.

Congregational

"Secretly Interested" will be Reverend Chauncey Blossom's sermon topic at the 10 o'clock worship service in the Orinda Community Church. Miss Barbara Jackman, guest organist, will direct the choir in the anthem, "Thanks Be To Thee" by Handel.

Church school children, grades one through six, will attend the opening worship period with their parents and be dismissed to their classes. A film, "Half-inch of Selfishness," will be shown in the junior department, followed by discussion.

Infant care is provided.

Senior Pilgrim Fellowship will meet at the church at 2 p.m. and go to Tilden Park for a box social.

The church is located at 10 Irwin Way.

Lutheran

Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church Sunday services are held at 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. with the sermon title for both services, "The Center of Our Faith." Pastor Albert S. Hidy Jr. will preach at both services.

Sunday school for all ages is held at 9:30 a.m. with Charles Ivy leading chapel services. Mark Shepard is superintendent of the Sunday school.

Wednesday at 8 p.m. the vacation Bible school teachers will meet at the church. This is an important meeting as they will receive schedules, material, and other assistance from the school director, Mrs. Silver. All teachers are urged to attend.

Daily vacation Bible school will start August 22 and end August 26. Parents are urged to register children now with Pastor Hidy or Mrs. Silver.

The church is located at 433 Moraga Way, Orinda.

Methodist

"Trails" will be the sermon topic of Reverend George E. Berry of the Lafayette Community Methodist Church, at both services, 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. Nursery care is provided.

College-age youth meet in homes from 8 to 9:15 a.m. Call YE 5-4236 if interested. At 9:30 a.m. there is church school for all ages.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship for high-school youth meets at the church for a Bible-study at 6 p.m., recreation at 7 p.m. and a regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. All high-school youth are invited.

Thursday, Circle 2 of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Hotes, 3527 S. Silver Springs Road, Lafayette. Choir rehearsal for high-school youth is at 7:30 p.m.

Enrollment is being taken for vacation church school. It is for all youngsters through the sixth grade. It will be held August 8 through 19, 9:15 to 11:45 a.m.

Methodist

"Just Can't Finish" will be the sermon topic of Reverend John Dodson, minister of the Orinda-Moraga Methodist Church which is meeting at Miramonte High School, 750 Moraga Way, at 9:30 a.m.

The church school meets at 9:30 a.m. with a special program which is highlighted by the movie, "The Search for Christ." Classes are provided during the summer months for all grade school children.

At 9 a.m. a tour of new churches will be taken by members of the church in anticipation of our church's future building program. Members will meet at Miramonte High School and proceed to Los Altos to view the new Methodist church there, and continue down to Sea Cliff beach for a picnic. Finally, the group will inspect a new church in Watsonville before returning home.

Sunday at 7 p.m. the Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet at the home of Herb Holtoff, 15 Aspinwall Court, Orinda. This group is open to all teenagers.

Wednesday at 8 o'clock the official board of the church will meet at the parsonage, 143 Fiesta Circle. This will be an important meeting.

The new telephone number of the minister is DR 6-4355.

Baptist

"God is Awake" will be the Sunday sermon of Reverend Bruce H. Parker at the 11 a.m. service of the First Baptist Church of Orinda-Lafayette, meeting in the new sanctuary on the freeway one-fourth mile east of Charles Hill Road.

Junior church and nursery care programs are conducted at the same time.

Sunday school begins promptly at 9:45 a.m. with graded classes for all ages.

Baptist Youth Fellowship starts at 6:30 p.m. in the church.

The evening evangelistic program begins at 7:30 p.m. with a sing, and concludes with a message by Pastor Parker, "Miraculous Abundance."

Prayer meeting and Bible study meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the church.

New Presbyterian Church Planned for Moraga Area

Action has been taken by the Presbytery of San Francisco for the organization of a United Presbyterian Church in Moraga.

The founding pastor expects to be in the field by September 15, and the first meetings of the fellowship will follow shortly thereafter.

The church development office is currently negotiating for a suitable piece of land for the first unit of construction.

Reverend Ronald T. White, D.D., has been named the organizing pastor. Dr. White has served as Western Area field director for the Presbyterian board of Christian education. He introduced the faith and life curriculum to the church schools and established an extensive program of leadership training for church school teachers.

For nine years he has been executive of the North Coastal area, working with members and ministers of 165 Presbyterian churches.

He is currently serving the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church as Interim Pastor and is a graduate of the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

With his wife and daughter, Valerie, he resides in Walnut Creek, but expects to make his home in Moraga by September.

Baptist

"Why do you question in your heart?" will be the sermon topic of Reverend Alan D. Southwell at the 10 a.m. worship service of the Moraga Hills Baptist Church, temporarily meeting in the Moraga School, School Street, Moraga.

Church school classes from nursery through sixth grade are held at the same time, 10 a.m.

The Baptist Youth Fellowship will meet at the Moraga School at 7:30 p.m. under the guidance of George Nye, youth director. All junior high young people are welcome.

Saturday the men of the church and members of the Comrade Class of the First Baptist Church of Oakland will be painting the new building now nearing completion on Moraga Road near Rheem Center.

Vacation church school from kindergarten through the sixth grade will begin Monday Aug. 1 and continue for one week. The school will be held in the Moraga School from 9 to 11:30 each morning. Your child is welcome. Call DR 6-4230 to register.

Vacation Trips, Picnics And Swim Parties in Vogue

By ENID HENNESSY

Saturday meant a day at the beach for 10 seniors. Mike Calhoun and Connie Cook, Rick Layne and Robin Folger, and Bill Carroll and Sheri Krochi were among the crowd at San Gregorio beach that day. Rick Babcock played some songs for the group on his guitar and Rick Layne had fun pulling the sticky marshmallow that Robin threw at him out of his eye. Mike lost his car keys and with the car locked, he had a few problems. Finally he opened it up and then he hot wired the car to get home, but the car kept on backfiring all the way.

A new group is starting up here in Orinda to give the older kids chances to get together for a good time; the Community Church is sponsoring the gatherings. Last week there was a swim-picnic at the Sleepy Hollow pool. Skip Nelsen and Vicki McCosker, and Carole Knudsen and Mike Catheral were there and Charlie Blue was life-guarding. The group plans to sponsor several other affairs such as a trip to San Francisco, Blackhawk and other places.

Larry Lahmann left for Hawaii Tuesday for his vacation in the sunny south Pacific.

Noel and Katy Jones are coming back from Kennolyn camp in Soquel on the 30th. Mrs Jones, Noel and Kathie Calhoun are leaving for Hawaii Tuesday

Sorbett Kroll will join the Miramonte migration to the islands when he leaves to see Joan Miller, who moved there several months ago. Corbett plans to go in a few days.

Joanne Warner is going to fly to Los Angeles to see an old school friend. She will be gone for about two weeks.

Diane Traverso's was the scene for a "spur-of-the-moment" swim party last week. Dennie Spitler, Jonathan Jensen, Suzie Hightower and Bonnie McLaverdy were just a few of those there. Tom White tried to dive off the trampoline, but his dives always turned out a little peculiar . . . wonder why?

Sue Cox and Ruth Thompson saw a lot of their Air Force fellows last weekend. Both boys are students at the Air Force Academy in Colorado. They went to San Francisco for the day last Saturday.

Seniors are eagerly awaiting their senior supplements. To answer a lot of questions, the supplements will be ready in about a week and a half.

Rosemary Niosi Is in Operetta

Rosemary Niosi, 11 Moraga Court, was cast as Isabel, one of the major-general's wards, in the Pacific Music Camp production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance" at the College of the Pacific, Stockton, Thursday and Friday nights.

The comic operetta climaxed the 15th season of the five-week music camp, which provides intensive training in choral, band, and orchestra work for talented high school students under the batons of well-known guest conductors.

Leo Kopp, conductor of the Lincoln, Nebraska, Symphony Orchestra and St. Paul Civic Opera, was guest conductor for the production. A company of over 100 performed in "The Pirates."

The 20-year-old soldier attended Miramonte High School.

Brunckhorsts Go To Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Ordway F. Brunckhorst of Orinda, California attended the Franklin Life Insurance Company's convention at the Mark Hopkins Hotel, San Francisco, this week.

News From AFS Students Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller of 15 Scenic Court, Orinda, have had three letters from their daughter Jan, who is in Denmark.

She writes: "They held a huge Fourth of July festival. We sang American and Danish national anthems and other songs and it was wonderful.

"The surrounding hills were completely covered with people. I saw about five other AFS'ers from Denmark and ran into other Californians and even a girl from Oakland.

"The whole thing was so impressive and it made me so proud to be an American and that the United States and Denmark can share our U. S. Independence Day with such understanding and friendliness."

Jan, who will be a senior at Miramonte when she returns, has been having a busy time in Denmark, according to her parents. Her letters indicate that she is being shown a great deal of Danish life and finds it all exciting.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ogden of Piedmont Avenue, Orinda, have received many letters from Abbass Haghighat of Teheran, Iran. He writes personally to each member of the Ogden family and hopes to be able to enter into Orinda living satisfactorily.

". . . as you anticipated, I feel I shall have a little trouble with my English at the beginning, and I will try my best to understand American English," he wrote.

Abbass will be the Ogdens' guest in the fall.

Mott Announces $10,000 Donation

Park Superintendent William Penn Mott Jr. of the Oakland Park Department has announced the donation of $10,000 for a zoo in Knowland State Arboretum and Park.

The donation was made to the zoo fund by Mrs. Sidney A. Snow, widow of the zoo's late director, and is the first major step toward a $70,000 goal.

Mrs. Clay Sorrick Is Friend to Orinda Library, and She Loves it!

SECOND SECTION
ORINDA SUN
Friday, July 29, 1960

EVEN JET enjoys quiet moments in the library with his mistress, Mrs. Clay Sorrick of 10 Hacienda Road, Orinda, who is known for her work with the Friends of the Orinda Library. —Sun photo by Bob Rush.

By JEAN JERNIGAN

Her secret dream is to build a low rambling house using choice woods, but at the present she is at home in a Georgian Colonial at 10 Hacienda Road, Orinda.

She is Mrs. Clay H. Sorrick, known to many Orindans for her work with the Friends of the Orinda Library.

"It has been thrilling to see the marvelous cooperation of the people in Orinda in working together for our library. This work has been the most fun of anything I have ever done, I have great faith in the people of Orinda, they are wonderful," related Muir Sorrick.

THE ORINDA library will be two years old in October. As a member of the library board of directors, Mrs. Sorrick was asked to investigate the "Friends of Library," a national organization.

"The Orinda Library is operated and maintained by the county," she said, "but the Orinda people actually own the building. We felt we must do something to assure the library of an income and to maintain and stimulate interest.

"After investigating the Friends' group, this seemed to be the answer for us in Orinda and the Friends of Orinda Library was formed and I was appointed chairman."

THE FRIENDS of Orinda Library group publishes the "Friends of Library News," conducts four or five lectures a year, keeps interest in the library alive and has grown in just one year to a group of 300 members.

Members pay dues and participate in the group's varied activities. "It has been a real pleasure," Mrs. Sorrick remarked, "to see so many new young families become interested in our group. We are continually growing and will welcome new members who may call me, or our membership chairman, Mrs. Miles Sudson, for information."

Mrs. Sorrick, always interested in reading and in libraries, found herself becoming more deeply involved with the Orinda Library with each passing day, for, she said, "I realized that I was more interested in this than anything else."

ACTUALLY SHE is a lady of many interests. Majoring in clinical psychology at the University of California, she is still interested in eventually working in a clinic where her primary interest is in disturbed people.

A beginning student in the Russian language, with a continued interest in psychosomatics, Muir Sorrick called herself a procrastinator who finds everything very interesting, but can't seem to get around to doing it all.

As a mother of four sons, a past den mother, a past president of the Orinda Garden Club, an accomplished homemaker, and chairman of the Friends of Orinda Library instrumental in organizing the group, it is hard to see just when Mrs. Sorrick procrastinates.

She is an avid reader and belongs to two book clubs. Classics and poetry are her favorites when not reading professional material.

WITH HER husband, Clay, and sons Clay Jr., 18; Steven, 16; Alan, 15, and Brian, 8, she spends vacations at the family cabin at Twain Harte. Here the family enjoys golfing and fishing.

The Sorricks like to "do everything." They enjoy bridge and entertaining, particularly family entertaining in the summer time.

At one time the family had a horse, but now their pets are Jet, a standard poodle, and Frenchie, a male cat. Mrs. Sorrick played down her ability at the domestic arts, saying, "I could be good, but I just throw things together."

AT THE time of her interview she had "just thrown" together a strawberry icebox cake fit for a king. If the happiness and well being of her family are any indication, we'll vouch Mrs. Sorrick is as adept on the home front as she is when earnestly working for the Orinda Library.

Orinda AAU Makes Plans

Mrs. Ellsworth Meteer, newly elected president of the Orinda Branch of the American Association of University Women, met recently with her executive board to plan activities for the coming year.

Meeting with her were Mrs. Jack R. Simpson, frst vce president and membership chairman; Mrs. Ivan MacDonald, second vice president and program chairman; Mrs. John Werner, recording secretary; Mrs. D. W. Raaka, recording secretary; and Mrs. Henry Bollwinkel, treasurer.

MRS. METEER, a graduate of Washington State College, is the mother of Laurie, 12, and John, 9. A charter member of the Orinda Branch, she has served as treasurer, building fund chairman and international relations chairman, before assuming her present post.

According to Mrs. Meteer, the branch will place a great deal of emphasis on the study of community problems, and both state and county government.

To implement this program she has selected section chairmen included Mesdames Robert Hill, art; Paul Garay, books; Joseph Horsley, bridge; Gerald Trumbly, education; Edward Smith, higher education; Richard Bartle, social and economic issues; George Corwin, international relations; and Percy Dawson, status of women.

OTHER BOARD appointments include Mesdames David Solberg, fellowships; David Wenrich and William Joubert, hospitality; Robert Anderson, bulletin; Kenneth Ruppenthal, historian; Phillip Bush, parliamentarian; William Luecker, telephone; Robertson Williams, yearbook; and John Goldeen, public relations.

ORINDA members of the Diamond Branch of Herrick Hospital Guild are already preparing for the Village Fair to be held November 2. Mrs. Jerome Russell shows an attractive handmade shopping bag to Mrs. Paul Brodhead of Orinda and her nieces Karen and Susan Brovelli. Similar items will be sold at the fair.

John Parry Laird Weds Mary Setaro in San Jose

John Parry Laird III of Lafayette took Mary Janice Setaro as his bride in ceremonies performed by Father William J. Flannagan on June 25 in St. Patrick's Catholic Church, San Jose.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Archibald Setaro of Escalon, and was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a gown of white organdy with round neck, cap sleeves, and sculptured roses of white organdy around the lower portion of the bouffant chapel length skirt.

A narrow head band held her elbow length veil and she wore pearls, a gift from the groom. Her bouquet was of white orchids and carnations.

Mrs. Carlton Williams, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a gown of lime green silk organdy with white bow bandeau in her hair and white carnations. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of white carnations.

Wearing gowns similar to the matron of honor, Mesdames Lawrence Shelton and Frank Leoni served as bridesmaids.

William Penn Mott III of Orinda, a boyhood friend of the groom's, served as best man. Seating the guests were Robert Eberhart, William Charlson, William King, and Jack Setaro, brother of the bride.

After her wedding, Mrs. Setaro chose a gown of beige lace. She wore white accessories and white orchids. Mrs. Laird wore a gown of pale blue silk linen and chiffon with matching hat and shoes and a white orchid.

SAN JOSE'S St. Patrick Catholic Church was the scene of Mary Janice Setaro's June 25 wedding to John Parry Laird, III. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Parry Laird of Lafayette.

Bruno Patio Is Setting for Bridge, Swim

The poolside patio of the home of Mrs. George Bruno, 754 Old Jonas Hill Road, Lafayette, was the setting July 14, for an afternoon of bridge and swimming by members of the Town & Country Women's Club.

Coffee, cold drinks and dessert was served by the Mesdames Robert Hoole, Ray Bohner and Dan Bates.

During a short meeting conducted by club president Mrs. Dan Dietrich, plans for a family picnic, a "Turtle Point" were discussed.

Many sections of the club are active throughout the summer. The bridge group gathered at the home of Mrs. John Brentlinger, 3412 Black Hawk Road; July 6 and met again Wednesday at Mrs. Robert Templeton's 3520 Silver Springs Road.

On July 23, Mrs. Bruno was hostess for swimming and potluck for the couple's bridge section.

Mrs. Ivy Ernst, 783 North Road was hostess to the newly organized Pinochle Group July 5.

Evening and afternoon literary sections are reviewing "Only Yesterday" by Allen, "Inside Russia Today" by John Gunther and "Mainstreet USSR" by Irving R. Levine.

Their meetings were held at the homes of Mrs. John Brentlinger, 3412 Black Hawk Road and Mrs. Joyce Stallonee, 594 Michael Lane.

Mrs. Louise Hendrickson, 3665 Boyer Circle received the sewing group on July 20.

Diablo Nile Club Plans Benefit Luau

Diablo Nile Club No. 8, daughters of the Nile, will sponsor its fourth annual benefit project on August 27 at 6 p.m. with a Polynesian luau in the gardens of Walt Weinzheimer, 250 Normandy Lane, Concord.

Preceding the dinner at 8 p.m. will be a social hour with entertainment and music provided by a Polynesian orchestra.

Mrs. Robert Hendee of Antioch is general chairman and co-chairman is Mrs. Howard Fahy of Concord.

According to Mrs. E. C. Holman of Walnut Creek, president of the club, proceeds of the luau will go toward the orthopedic and convalescent relief funds of Nefru Art Temple No. 17 to turn over to the Shriners Crippled Children's Hospital for purchase of supplies, artificial limbs, braces and special shoes for outpatients of the hospitals located in the United States, Hawaii, Canada and Mexico.

Daughters of the Nile, their husbands and friends are invited. For reservations call Mrs. Holman, Mrs. Hendee or Mrs. Fahy.

Hawaii Trip Celebrates Anniversary

Celebrating their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary with a cruise to the Hawaiian Islands are Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Koch of Danville.

The couple was feted by fifty Bay Area friends at a shipboard party prior to sailing. Among the guests attending from the Walnut Creek area were the Mesdames and Messrs. C. B. Eiferle, Oliver Longergan, T. P. Matthiesen with children Julie and Stephen, and Bert Koch.

Mrs. Koch is an assistant librarian at the Walnut Creek library.

Village Fair Set For November 2

Arch of Diamond members of the Herrick Hospital Guild are busily preparing for the Guild's annual fund-raising event, the Holiday Fair.

The theme this year is the "Village Fair." Gaily decorated booths reminiscent of county fairs will fill the ballroom of the Hotel Claremont on November 2. Heaped with intriguing handmade wares, the booths will delight the Fair visitors. Chairman of the event is Mrs. A. Ray Poindexter of Orinda, assisted by Mrs. Richard Reid.

Since the early part of the year, Diamond members have been working at the home of Mrs. Jerome Russell on the original items they will sell in their Country Store. Suitable for gifts or for ones own home are such articles as candle sticks, aprons, waste baskets and barbecue accessories. Some of these are whimsy, some are practical.

When shopping bags are bulging and shopping sprees are completed, the fair customers will enjoy a buffet luncheon and fashion show. Music will be furnished by Del Courtney and his orchestra.

Engagement Is Revealed

The engagement of Marilyn E. Fairbanks to Lieutenant Donald R. Walters has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rollins Fairbanks of 1024 Grayson Road, Pleasant Hill.

Marilyn is a graduate of Pleasant Hill High School and is currently a student at O'Connor School of Nursing in San Jose.

Her fiance, son of Mrs. Mabel Walters of 2156 Almond Avenue, Concord, is a graduate of Mt. Diablo High School. He is now training as a bombardier at Mather Air Force Base in Sacramento.

A date has not yet been selected for the wedding.

PARK LABREA will be home for Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds Sheppird, who were married July 16 at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda. She is the former Jane Seulberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seulberger of Lafayette. —Photo by Ted Gurney.

Bridal Pair Will Live In Southern California

White gladioli, white stock and plants of maidenhair fern decorated St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Orinda on July 16 for the wedding of Jane Seulberger and John Reynolds Shepphird.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore the gown which her sister Ann wore for her 1958 marriage to Jon Quentin Reynolds. Made of imported Chantilly lace with bouffant floor length skirt, the gown had an elongated torso line.

Her veil of duchess and rosepoint lace was made from one worn by the bridegroom's mother at her own wedding and topped with four graduated layers of illusion veiling.

Reverend Albert Lucas, now of Bend, Oregon, returned to perform the ceremony which was followed by a reception in the Happy Valley home and garden of Janie's parents, the John Frederick Seulbergers.

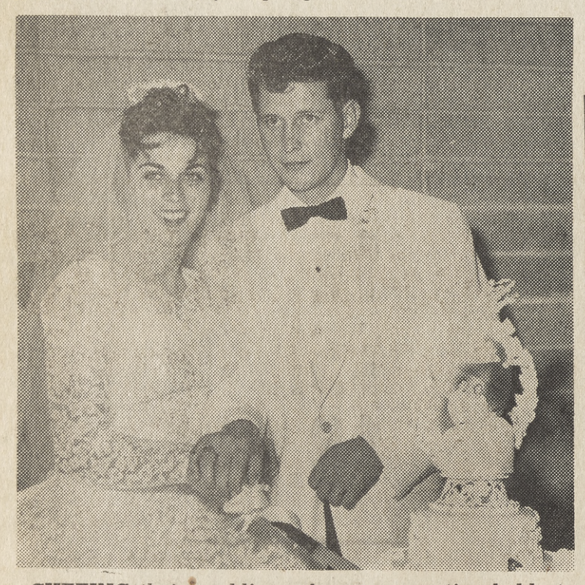
Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. John Quentin Reynolds. The bridesmaids were Betty Shipley, Ruthie Neel and Kathie Fitzgibbon. They wore full skirted yellow polished cotton dresses with cotton lace bodices. Their crowns were of white daisies.

Frederick H. Shepphird of Canoga Park was his brother's best man and the ushers were Steward Gilman, Donn Johnson, a cousin of the bridegroom, and David Askey, all of West Los Angeles and friends of the groom from his Harvard School for Boys days.

Mrs. Seulberger was gowned for her daughter's wedding in a light blue sheath dress with back panel and shirred chiffon at the waist. Mrs. Shepphird chose a beige and white print dress with flared skirt for the happy occasion.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carroll I. Shepphird of Beverly Hills and he is a graduate of Yale University.

After August 1 the bridal pair will make their home in the Park LaBrea area of Los Angeles.



CUTTING their wedding cake at a reception held at Clayton Valley Farm Bureau, are justweds Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Tate. She is the former Linda M. Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Turner of Walnut Creek. The marriage took place July 9. —Photo by Inco.

Linda Turner Becomes Bride of Keith Tate

Linda Marie Turner became the bride of Harold Keith Tate on July 9 at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Walnut Creek.

Father McLaughlin performed the ceremonies for which the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace over satin. A crown of matching chantilly lace, beaded with pearls, held her veil in place.

She carried a stephanotis spray with center orchid.

Escorted to the altar by her father, C. W. Turner, the bride was attended by Rita Frediani as matron of honor, Jean Tate as maid of honor and Judy Breshini as bridesmaid.

The bridal attendants wore dresses of mint green with matching veils and elbow length white gloves and white satin shoes. They carried carnations.

Richard Tate stood with the benedict and Wally Turner and Russell Copland served as ushers.

Mrs. Turner chose a gown of blue organdy for her daughter's wedding with white accessories and a corsage of two baby white orchids. Mrs. Tate wore a beige sheath dress with white accessories and also had a corsage of two baby white orchids.

After a honeymoon in Santa Cruz, the newlyweds will be at home in Walnut Creek.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Turner of 1514 Oakland Boulevard, Walnut Creek. The groom's jarents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Tate of Concord.

John Bohns Plan European Tour

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Bohn, 1555 Rancho View Drive, Lafayette, are planning a five-week tour of Europe, where they will meet their son, John.

They expect to return on the Queen Mary and see John enter Harvard before returning home.

Alpha Gamma Delta Plans Work Meeting

The Alpha Gamma Delta sorority will hold a work meeting next Friday to make ties for a bazaar to be held for the benefit of Las Trampas School in Lafayette.

All members in the area are invited to bring a sandwich for the 12:30 p.m. meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. David Armstrong, 3528 South Silver Springs Road, Lafayette.

NEW POINT OF VIEW

A new method of fluoroscopic examination was revealed recently in New York City by Dr. Russell Morgan of Johns Hopkins University. By using a television technique, the examining physician can intensify the image on a screen in full view of all interested people, including the patient himself.

Dobbins and Driving Car Don't Mix

Dobbins and driving just don't mix, area motorists have discovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Isola of Moraga Via, Orinda, were driving on Grayson Road when a horse running fast loomed in their headlights.

The husband hit the brakes, but the horse kept coming and it struck headon, breaking the windshield and denting the hood.

Although the horse's head stuck through the windshield, the animal was able to extricate itself and gallop off.

The Isolas, showered with glass and unnerved, continued on their way with grandchildren, who had also escaped injury.

Ronald Leo Newman, 21, of 53 Cleopatra Drive, Pleasant Hill, met a horse in the middle of Walnut Avenue and he was injured when his pickup truck rolled over.

He told investigators he wrenched the wheel as quickly as possible when the horse suddenly appeared on the center line.

He climbed out of the wreckage through the windshield and a passing motorist summoned an ambulance. He was released after treatment at the county hospital.

Art Sales, Rental Gallery Opens Sunday for Public

The official opening of the Diablo Pageant of Arts Sales and Rental Gallery will be held Sunday, from 1-4.

The Art Gallery is located in the quonset hut in the Walnut Creek City Park. Admission is free. Children are welcome.

City officials and city councilmen will be present.

FEATURED artists Robert Jensen, Edith Dart, and Don Yuen will discuss their work informally. Refreshments will be served.

A program of contemporary jazz will provide a musical background.

Since his early exhibits in his brother Jack's Oakland restaurant, Jensen's talent has steadily developed. His latest paintings are infused with a delightful optimism. "Fisherman," with which he won the Pageant's Purchase Award prize, will hang in the permanent collection of the new Walnut Creek library.

Edith Dart has been designing ceramics especially for use in homes of this area. Her collection of useful items include salad bowls and ashtrays as well as more delicate bottles for branch arrangements. Mrs. Dart's ceramics have been shown throughout California.

PIECES OF sculpture by Don Yuen will be displayed. The young artist's work is of the consistent high quality which won the First Award for sculpture in the Pageant's May show.

The Sales and Rental Gallery will be open on a regular basis from 1-4 on Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday.

Paintings by Karl Kasten, Betty Plesh, Lundy Sigriest, Dorothy Miller, Robert Elsocht, and others will be available for rent at the opening.

To give the public a larger selection, rental paintings will be loaned to the Gallery on a two-week basis unless they are rented during that time.

REMODELING of the interior of the Gallery is under the supervision of Dr. R. K. Charlesworth. He is assisted by George Deeds, Richard Grover, Dr. Gunther Steinburg, Ted Styskel, and Harold Butzbach.

Working on preparations for the opening are Mrs. Jensen, Mrs. Albert Rocklin, Mrs. Donato D'Essopo. Mrs. Ted Styskel, Mrs. Harold Butzbach, Music Town, Valley Nursery.

Co-directors are Mrs. Styskel and Mrs. Butzbach.

EARLY DETECTION

No one method of detecting cancer is totally certain, doctors say, but one of the best and easiest ways is the regular X-ray examination.

'Centennial' County Fair To Begin Wednesday

Painters are putting finishing touches to new exhibit buildings; gardeners are completing colorful landscaping; scores of workmen are scurrying about the fairground in Antioch — all intent on final preparations for Contra Costa's "Centennial" County Fair, starting Wednesday.

Fun-seekers during the five-day run will find excitement and entertainment designed to interest the entire family, and an "Old West" atmosphere appropriate to the 100-year observance.

A continuous schedule of events, shows and contests will provide a wide variety of entertainment for fairgoers — industrial, agricultural, garden, livestock and art exhibits, the gay carnival midway, the rodeo performances.

A Western Village has been added to the fairgrounds scene with replicas of 1860 buildings surrounding an outdoor dance floor and stage.

Allie Loraine, vivacious singer of Gay Nineties songs, the "Delta Dandies" barbershop quartet from Antioch, George Tone, famed ragtime pianist, and the Marion Marlin can-can dancers will star in free performances each night on the Western Village stage.

Square dancing groups will be in the spotlight next Friday.

On opening night, 15 beauty queens will compete for the title of "Miss Contra Costa."

The beauty pageant will start at 8:30 p.m., featuring Suzanne Reamo of San Diego, recently crowned "Miss California."

A dazzling fireworks display will again climax the first night events, starting at 10 p.m.

The fairgrounds will be open from 6 p.m. to midnight Wednesday and Thursday. Other fair times will be noon to midnight next Friday, 10 a.m. to 1 a.m. on August 6, and 10 a.m. to midnight on August 7.

Summer Students View Convention

U. S. History students at the Acalanes High School District summer session are using a "living laboratory" for their survey on political parties in the U. S.—by working the current Democratic and GOP conventions into the scope of their studies.

In addition to the regular history text and class discussion summer session students are completing a special unit on the 1960 presidential campaign.

The study highlights a bulletin board display of the candidates and the issues. Each student is preparing an Analysis of American Presidential Elections Since 1868 in conjunction with their study of the 1960 campaign.

The class is also using the 1960 Convention Handbook as a jumping off place for individual reports on the candidates and the issues as they emerge from Los Angeles and Chicago.

The summer session U. S. History course is taught by Tom Stamper, a regular member of the Acalanes High School social studies faculty.

The U. S. History course is one of more than 50 courses being offered the 1100 students who have enrolled in this first summer program sponsored by the Acalanes District. The six week session ends this week.

Batchelder Gives Capwell Service Pins

Arden Batchelder of Lafayette, vice president and general manager of Capwell's, presented service recognition awards to 87 long time employees, recently.

Some 430 persons who have been at Capwell's 10 years or more were invited to a breakfast in the Roof Garden Restaurant of Capwell's-Oakland.

Perry MaGill, Capwell's advertising manager, was master of ceremonies.

10 Years of Service Noted

Two area residents have received awards for 10 years of service with Contra Costa County.

They are John Thomas of 954 Santa Cruz Drive, Pleasant Hill, instituted leadmen at the County Hospital, and James Culber of 3618 Brook Street, Lafayette, senior draftsman in the County Planning Department.

Local Athletes Tackle Olympics

DONNA deVARONA displays the form that has made her a champion in less than three years of competitive swimming. She will enter the U. S. Olympic trials in Detroit Tuesday.

deVarona and Harrison Ready for National Trials

Lafayette and Orinda will be well represented when the Olympic swimming trials open in Detroit Tuesday.

Donna deVarona will do the honors for Lafayette. She will compete in the 100-meter individual freestyle and the 400-meter relay events, and possibly others.

SHE IS THE daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David deVarona, 3404 Hall Lane, Lafayette, who beat Sylvia Ruuska and set a new world mark in the 400-meter individual medley with a time of 5:36.5 at the AAU Nationals this month.

If Donna makes the Olympic team, she will be the youngest Olympic performer in the history of the United States. She is 13 and will be an eighth-grader at Stanley School this fall.

George Harrison, 21, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harrison of 7 Camino Lenada, Orinda. He holds four national swimming records, including the 400-yard freestyle. He holds the world's record in the 400-meter individual medley, with a time of 5:05.2, which he set a few weeks ago.

HARRISON SWAM in the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne while still an Acalanes High School senior. He is now a pre-medical student at Stanford University.

He will enter the 400-meter freestyle and the 200-meter freestyle events in the trials, and may also enter the 1500-meter freestyle if times of the events do not conflict.

He has been coached during the summer by George Haines of the Santa Clara Swim Club, who is also the U. S. Olympic swimming coach. Donna's regular coach is Tatto Yamashita of the Berkeley Y.

The Sun wishes the best of luck to these two fine swimmers.

Papsie Georgian Wins Solo Title

Papsie Georgian of Lafayette won her second National Senior Women's Solo title at the Outdoor National Synchronized Swimming Championships held in Hartford, Conn., July 15, 16 and 17.

Her winning routine, "In the Temple of Dragon," won by five points over her nearest rival. Miss Georgian also won the stunt competition, competing with 73 contestants from all over the United States.

For this honor she was awarded the Joy Cushman Stunt trophy and for the solo she received the Helene Harms Solo trophy. She swims for the Athens Water Follies.

Papsie is now in the Far East where she is giving exhibitions in Honolulu, Japan, Korea, Guam, Formosa, Okinawa and the Philippines.

Lynn Abbes Ends Second in Tennis

Lynn Abbes of Orchard Road, Orinda, finished second in the finals of the 11-year-old girls' division of the U. S. Junior Tennis tournament.

The remarkable little Lynn lost her match Friday to Peaches Bartkowicz of Michigan, 6-4, 6-0. In the 11 and under girls' doubles, Lynn and Dorian Santoni of Puerto Rico were defeated by the Michigan girl and Judy Dixon, 6-1, 6-3.

Lynn returned home Sunday from Chattanooga, where the tournament was held. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Abbes.

'Beat the Pro' Tourney To Draw Local Golfers

Contra Costa county golfers again will have an opportunity to "beat the pro" in the American Cancer Society's Babe Didrikson Zaharias Memorial Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Herbert Goranson of 3411 Blackhawk Road, Lafayette, and "a serious golfer" at Contra Costa Country Club, has been appointed county tournament chairman.

The statewide tournament, held for the first time in 1959, involved play at all clubs in the county, as under the chairmanship of Don Doten of Orinda Country Club, players at Tilden, Mira Vista, Diablo, Contra Costa, Pittsburg, Antioch, and Richmond, as well as Orinda, participated.

THIS YEAR'S tournament, endorsed by all the recognized golf associations, will run from August 6 to 14, inclusive.

During the nine-day period, golfers will play rounds on participating courses, posting their handicap scores against those of championship professionals who will participate in exhibition matches on August 14.

Players who beat the pros will receive awards. Men will play against male pros, and the ladies will compete against pros of their own sex.

Tournament structure will differ from a year ago in two major respects:

1. THE ENTRY FEE for playing against the champion will be $1 instead of $2 charged in 1959. The nominal entry fee will be to support the research, education and service program of the American Cancer Society.

2. There will be only two exhibition matches this year instead of four. One will be played at Harding Park Golf Course in San Francisco, and the other at California Country Club near Los Angeles. A gallery fee of $1 will be levied for each exhibition match, which will include not only well-known pro stars but celebrity golfers as well.

The Contra Costa County chairman, Mrs. Paula Goranson, said today she would appoint representatives of each club throughout the county to assist in local arrangements.

Mrs. Goranson has been an interclub tournament player in Contra Costa county for the past three years. Her whole immediate family are golfers—husband Herb is also a "serious golfer" as well as a former No. 1 tennis player for Alameda Tennis Club. Their daughter Sandra, 13, has her own clubs and cart and plays regularly as well as swims competitively.

Hardtop Highlights....

Nelson Snow Wins First Big Victory at Speedway

By JEAN McGUIRE

Racing fans at Contra Costa Speedway in Pacheco took great pleasure in the fact that for a big change Santa Rosa did not carry away the main event honors. San Pablo's Nelson Snow picked last Saturday night for his first taste of headline victory, and he did it with all the speed and skill of a seasoned veteran. Hot on his trail were "Ram Rod" Zanaline of Healdsburg, Gene Dudley of Napa, San Francisco's Julian Castro, Ted Gratriex of Napa, Leroy Geving, Petaluma, and Don Moreda of Santa Rosa.

Top honors in the semi-main event went to Hugh Purdy, Santa Rosa's champ. He was followed to the checker by Walt Kelsay of Santa Rosa, Novato's PeeWee Waybright, Jack Huddleston of Concord, Ray Kelsay, Wayne Estes, Concord, Pleasant Hill Mayor Jack Clayton and Herb Williams of Walnut Creek. Very happy to see Herb back in action after an accident last year at Sacramento.

PeeWee Waybright also took the final heat, followed by Purdy, Kelsay and Moreda.

Ted Gratriex of Napa was number one boy in the fast fourth heat. Dogging him in this order were Wally Baker, Sacramento; Rod Zanaline, Leroy Gevent, Bob Fillippi, Oakland, and Chet Thomson of San Lorenzo.

San Francisco's Julian Castro was the winner of the third heat. Coming in after him were Dave Logan, Concord; Don Moreda, Santa Rosa; Bob Nelson, Oakland, and George Whitney of San Francisco.

The second heat was taken by Carl Carr of San Francisco, who also took his third trophy of the season a little later on. Following Carr was "Stevereno" Steve Mentch, Alameda, Hugh Purdy and Paul Stornetta.

Some Talk of Roads, Bear Creek, Parks and Lakes

Generally, when someone starts out to build a road, they know where they are going and how they are going to get there.

Right now the county is considering the relocation of a road- a perfectly good road, except that one of these days it will be under several hundred feet of water.

The road under discussion in the Bear Creek Road between Orinda and Lafayette, and it will be inundated when the East Bay Municipal Utility District constructs its Briones Reservoir.

Ordinarily, relocating a road around a reservoir would not be too difficult—you just move it over and run it around the side of the lake.

BUT IN THIS CASE there are complications.

One of these, a major complication, is the Briones Valley Park. The county is purchasing land in Briones Valley for a county park, but it is not yet paid for. Nobody knows what facilities are to be developed in this park, or, for sure, how access to it will be obtained.

Someday there will have to be a major road into this area, there is no question about that.

But there is another consideration. When the Briones Reservoir is developed, it will be ideal for recreational purposes—just as is Pardee Reservoir, which is also in the EBMUD system.

SO BEFORE determination of the use of Briones Valley Park can be made, it should be known what recreational uses can be developed at the reservoir.

This, in turn, will help to establish the need for roads, their location, and the traffic that they must bear.

The beauty of it all is, that there is no hurry. Robert Kahn, the president of the Happy Valley Improvement Association has recommended that the county and EBMUD should settle the amount of money damages caused by the inundation of the present Bear Creek Road, and that this money should be placed aside to gain interest for the eventual construction of a new Bear Creek road when the location becomes known.

HE RECOMMENDS that no roads be constructed at the present time, and that the proper location of the county park should be reviewed in accordance with the possible use of the reservoir for recreational facilities.

The Sun concurs with these recommendations, and, in fact, it seems like the only sensible approach to the problem.

But regardless of the final outcome, it is apparent that the county should not make a decision on this matter now.

It is wise to know where a road is going before you start to build it.

Pickpockets, State Style

Every time you turn around, it seems like somebody has his hand on your pocketbook.

The honest way to relieve you of your dollars, naturally, is by way of the ubiquitous tax bill. It's a lot safer than picking pockets on the street.

Now we hear that the state has its back up again, and is telling Contra Costa County that our property assessments for tax purposes are too low.

IF YOU WILL remember about three years back, our assessments were increased by more than 30 per cent in a blanket move to upgrade the county's assessment rolls to a level more closely alligned with the rest of the state.

And, as if that weren't bad enough, since then the county assessor has been doing his best to reassess every parcel in the county.

Many areas have already gone through the reassessment procedure, and there are teams of men out working on the rest of the county.

All told, the county assessor expected the parcel-by-parcel reassessment to take about five years, and he's certainly making headway.

BUT NOW THE state comes along and says we are assessing our property at only 21.5 per cent of the market value, while other counties are assessing at 23.5 per cent.

County Assessor C. Lou Dunklee is indignant at this charge and notes that we are assessing at 27 per cent of the market value.

Certainly the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors should get into the act and get this straightened out right now.

Because it affects our tax bills in a lot more ways than would be apparent on the surface.

For instance, the state has a nasty little habit of withholding state aid to school districts in an area it considers to be under-assessed.

JUST LAST YEAR, for example, this cost the Mt. Diablo Unified School District $176,864, and it cost the Acalanes High School District $33,000.

Now who do you suppose makes up that deficiency? The answer is quite plain—we do, on our tax bills.

And our school tax bills are the major portion of our total taxes!

We don't know whether or not you have recovered from the shock you got when you opened your last tax bill, but we'll bet the next one is even worse. We can guarantee it, if this sort of thing keeps up.

So let's get with it fellows, this sounds like highway robbery!

A Real Case of 'Chicken?'

We didn't know the State of California was afraid of anything!

We have met some people, from time to time, who have admitted that they are afraid of District Attorney John Nejedly, and even some who have said that they are afraid of the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors.

But we didn't know that the state was afraid, too.

Looks that way, though.

SINCE NEJEDLY — and the county — had the courage to stand up and explain their refusal to reinstate aid to needy children funds to a woman who refused to take a lie detector test in connection with the father of her youngest child, the fat has been in the fire.

Nejedly and the board of supervisors are to be commended on their stand in this matter. And it is interesting to note that they are not alone. After elaborate plans for a thorough airing of the problem in Los Angeles Friday, powerful Los Angeles County got on our bandwagon, along with Santa Cruz and a host of others.

Then what happens? The State Board of Social Welfare called off the whole shooting match.

Their excuse was that there is pending legislation in the courts. But they, themselves, called the meeting after the petition had been filed with the courts.

NOT VERY REALISTIC, and frankly, it looks as if the state is simply afraid to stand up and have its arguments aired in public.

This may not be the case, but until there is some better explanation, we'll just have to assume that it is a case of "chicken," as our teenagers would so ably express it.

State Senator George Miller commented the other day that the root of the problem lies much deeper, and that the whole philosophy of state welfare apportionments needs study and reworking.

This is becoming increasingly apparent.

But in the meantime, come on out fellows, and talk to us!

Ticks, But No Clocks...

By DICK OSBORN

Time was when I thought a tick was a sound emitted by a clock.

Turns out, however, that there is also a little beast that goes by the same name, and that he can do a lot of damage.

We have all heard of Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever—which same is transmitted by ticks. Fortunately, that is not prevalent hereabouts.

BUT CHILDREN'S Hospital of the East Bay sent a notice the other day that showed that the lowly tick is responsible for more than that . . . And these are the kind of ticks we have in California.

They suggest that if a child is weak after a trip to the woods, you had better look and see if a tick has attached itself to his body.

Tick paralysis may develop from a tick anywhere on the body. It is most severe if the tick is on the back of the neck or along the spinal column.

A little girl was brought into the hospital recently with leg paralysis. She and her family had been camping along the Feather River.

A nurse noticed what appeared to be a mole on the back of the child's head, but on closer examination, it turned out to be a tick.

Doctors removed it and the little girl —who had not been able to sit up without support in the morning—was able to walk two hours later.

THE NICE THING about this is that once the tick is removed the flow of poisonous saliva stops and the child recovers.

Tick paralysis begins in the legs and progresses upward. It can be fatal.

One interesting note. More girls and women are affected than boys and men.

So watch out, gals.

There's more to a tick than a clock!

Don't be a litterbug!

Letters To The Editor

PARK DIRECTOR

Dear Editor:

When I wrote to you following the so-called primary election, one of the things which I had in mind was that the over-emphasis on fluoridation for a period of many weeks had tended to exclude from the Sun adequate coverage of a number of newsworthy events.

I did not take the time then to go into that phase of the question, so perhaps I could now mention a couple of items, the first of which is certainly at least as important as the question of fluoridation.

I have been out-of-town a good deal this spring and summer, so perhaps I have missed a part of your entire news coverage; but I don't recall seeing any mention in The Sun that the county has a new Park Director—it's first.

I CONSIDER the creation of the position of park director and the employment of "Doc" Mattison as our first director to be one of the most steps forward which Contra Costa County has ever taken.

Now we are at last on a position to do something about the development of the Briones park land which the county is buying on a long-term contract; and to acquire other park lands to meet the future needs of our expanding population growth.

Perhaps you have made some reference to this, casually.

My point is this: why wasn't it given equal billing with fluoridation as a news item of the greatest importance to all residents of Contra Costa County?

If you have by now included a feature story on the Park Director, you have in part, answered. If not, when? And please provide him in the future with an opportunity to tell the continuing story of Parks in the columns of The Sun.

Have you received a copy of the recently published handbook of the California Roadside Council entitled: "More Attractive Communities for California"? If not, please call me or Bill Mott.

I HOPE that you will have a feature story about this handbook because it is very newsworthy. Mention is made of the work of the Orinda Beautification Committee and there is a picture of the planting of a pine tree in Orinda. The work of the Contra Costa County Roadside Development Committee is mentioned.

The handbook has been published as a public service by the California Roadside Council, 12 Garces Drive, San Francisco, and sells for $1 a copy, which is only a fraction of the cost.

There has been a great deal of publicity lately in the Fresno Bee about how inadequate our state parks are becoming to handle the huge crowds which go there on week-ends, holidays and other vacation periods to escape briefly from sprawling urbanization.

APPARENTLY patios and swimming pools in the back yard (which some of our officials seem to think of an adequate substitutes for parks are not enough.

There must be overnight camping facilities for groups like Scouts, and there must be enough open space to give one at least a temporary respite from cramped subdivision and apartment living.

The proposed State water plan is another matter of such significance to all residents of the State that The Sun woul do well to give considerable coverage to this topic.

The proposed State water plan is another matter of such significance to all residents of the State that The Sun would do well to give considerable coverage to this topic.

Recently I visited the area around Lancaster, where vast new sections of marginal land are being opened for development as soon as adequate water is available.

In the middle of the desert I saw new street signs for 87th, 91st, even 95th street (reminiscent of Chicago's south side).

WEST OF FRESNO great acreages of marginal land are to be turned to production of food and cotton as soon as more water is available. Then I rode through the Santa Clara Valley where a priceless heritage of irreplaceable top soil many feet deep is being covered by asphalt, concrete and roofed-over areas to house subdivisions, super-markets, highways and "pretty" industry.

Are we being wise stewards of our heritage and productive land and water resources when we permit sprawling urban growth in our best farm lands and then spend billions to bring water hundreds of miles so that we can raise food on marginal and submarginal land?

This is a question which I should like to hear discussed. Some of our delta land is being zoned so that it can be held for agriculture.

I Fresno I see a great waste of water—many residents allow their watering systems to run day and night and often we see streams of water draining into the streets and gutters. Without cheap water the wide green lawns and gardens would look like a desert in a couple of weeks.

JIM HUPP

(The Sun carried a story on the appointment of the county Park Director. Furthermore, it should be noted that the amount of space allocated to editorial news coverage was increased before the elections to take care of the added "political" load.—Ed. note.)

We Like It Here . . .

Relax If You Can, While You're Getting That Tan!

By MARIE MONAHAN

THIS is the season of the Swim Pool & the Sun Tan.

Time to relax.

I am so relaxed, I am nearly a wreck!

I have been putting in my pool time at the Community Pool. Since the children graduated from tadpoles to swim-team potentials, I have been emancipated from the ranks of vigilant mothers who spend all their time sitting on the side of the pool watching for choking children or waterlogged heads that don't come up right away.

NOW that I have been liberated from those observant ones who are never in repose, always on their toes, chasing, splashing, bending over, I just Sit. And believe me, it is harder and more hazardous just to SIT in the sun and relax.

HONESTLY, I find it exhausting!

I join the other ladies on the beach towels and rice mats. We gab and we gab. We give each other a few little choice bits of gossip. We sit, just SIT, for hours. Some of us sit all day long, occasionally dousing ourselves with a swim or a quick dunking.

HALF the time I do not even know with whom I am talking.

Most of the ladies are in disguise. They wear dark glasses, a swim suit (some with a few bulges), not to mention overwhelmly straw hats that hide head and hair.

As a result, we don't recognize everybody. Nearly everyone plays it safe and simply smiles at nearly everybody else.

One afternoon in the bank, a lady chatted blithely away as if we were old bosom-buddies. Which, it turned out, we WERE! The reason I did not recognize her was because I'd never seen her dressed before—in clothes, I mean.

She was a Pool Crony, one I had grown accustomed to recognizing by her blue striped swim suit and her straw hat not to mention her sun glasses decorated with seashells.

As I was saying, we ladies all sit in the sun, smothering and smoldering.

We resemble a bunch of turkeys basting on the barbecue, hot, dripping and done to a turn. We gobble popsickles and gossip and talk about how we've GOT to lose weight!

The kids come running for soda money. We hand it over like so many automatic money machines—just so it doesn't interrupt our gab fest.

We stretch our backs. We adjust our beach towels. We rub one another's back with the latest in suntan lotions.

AFTER A WEEK of getting rid of my housewife's pallor, I have decided this is not for me. It's back to the books in the shady garden. Let the kids go to the pool alone!

After a week, I do not have a sporty tan. Just a sensitive sunburn.

WHAT'S MORE, I am completely out of breath—from talking too much. I can scarcely push the vacuum around.

I am so full of popscicles and ice cream bars that I can't even THINK of dinner and by the time I gather up the towels, my beach bag, the magazines which I never read, the sun tan oil and the sandals, I am a wreck! A veritable WRECK!

THAT IS THE PROBLEM with relaxation. It takes SO much energy!

It is exhausting!

Under The Sun

Don't Read This Column If You Want to Laugh!

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

My file folder is bulging with news clips, so let's get to work:

NEWS STORY: Chicago—Young men are bad drivers —much worse than girls, said a spokesman for the Illinois insurance industry. Reginald Dawson stated recently, "The performance of male drivers between the ages of 16-25 stinks. Girls in their age group have it all over them.

"While accidents and sudden death force insurance rates for young male drivers toward the wild blue yonder, girls of the same age have quietly compiled a safety rate equal to adult drivers," Dawson concluded.

COMMENT: No comment needed.

Here is another problem:

ARTICLE BY CONGRESSMAN FRANK KOWAALSKI (Dem., Conn.):

It is illegal, according to the U.S. military code, to use a GI as a personal servant. Yet our Army, Navy and Air Force flout this code every day.

Tens of thousands of servicemen—including many highly trained and high-ranking noncoms—are regularly assigned as bartenders, waiters, chefs, bedmakers, valets, chauffeurs, baby-sitters, yardmen and so-called "orderlies" for officers. And the title of "orderly" can encompass anything from upstairs maid for a major's wife to walking a pet Pekingese.

This waste costs you, the American taxpayer, more than 300 million dollars per year, and has robbed our armed forces of from three to four combat divisions. This at a time when every one of the services is complaining bitterly of manpower shortages!

COMMENT: Not much comment is needed for this item either. If you have ever served in the armed forces, you certainly can corroborate the congressman's statements. This is a crime against our nation and should be stopped.

Fireworks, flame and fire

NEWS STORY: The Lafayette Fire Department reported last week that fireworks which landed on a wood shake roof made up the "logical cause" of the fire which struck the John P. O'Shea home the night of July 4. The fire's damage has been evaluated at between $250,000 and $350,000 due to valuable art, book and ceramic collections which were virtually destroyed, along with half of the home. A neighbor had earlier in the evening presented a fireworks display, with permission of fire department authorities.

NEW STORY: Orinda firemen this month were continuing their attempts to determine the causes of two destructive home fires. One modern $125.000 home was completely destroyed. The other fire destroyed a garage, breezeway and part of the roof. In the second fire, cans of paint in the garage helped feed the flames.

NEWS STORY: A young mother of six small children was burned to death in March in Danville, when sparks from a fireplace ignited her housecoat.

Vacation problem

NEWS STORY: Leo Purdue, his wife and three children left on a vacation trip March 28 after closing their Pleasant Hill home. Hours later fire broke out, destroyed the home and virtually all the family's possessions.

COMMENT: The moral is obvious. Fire can strike your home or mine. What precautions are we taking to avoid such a tragedy?

I wish I had a funny joke to lighten this dismal column, but I don't. Just be careful and let's have a fun-but-safe vacation period.

Letters to The Editor

CLEAN UP

Dear Editor:

The clean up committee wishes to thank The Sun for its support and fine publicity during the recent campaign sponsored by the Lafayette Design Project and the garden section of the Lafayette Women's Club.

We would like to thank the Sea Scouts who alerted traffic and handed out litter bags; the Girl Scouts who designed and distributed posters; the Ta-waki Camp Fire Girls who distributed posters; and all the Boy and Girl Scouts and citizens who hoed weeds and collected trash.

The cooperation of the county in providing the anti-litter truck, equipment and litter-bags, and of the members of the Lions Club who offered their pickup trucks was appreciated.

Everyone who worked was grateful to the Safeway Store, Bireley's and Coca Cola and Pepsi Cola companies for the soft drinks.

Now we need everyone's cooperation to "Keep Lafayette Clean" throughout the year.

Vivien Leigh Play Will Open Soon

"Duels of Angels," in which British stage and screen star Vivien Leigh scored one of her greatest London successes in 1958, a triumph she repeated in New York last April, comes to the Alcazar Theatre Monday August 8 at 8:30 p.m.

The four-week engagement, through Saturday, September 3, is under the auspices of Roger L. Stevens and S. Hurok. Evenings (except Sundays) are at 8:30; matinees are Wednesdays and Saturdays at 2:30.

Vivien Leigh, who made her American stage debut in San Francisco in "Romeo and Juliet" in 1940—Laurence Olivier was her Romeo—is fondly remembered by film fans for her two "Oscar"-winning films, "Gone With the Wind" (1939) and "A Streetcar Named Desire" (1951).

The past two decades have brought the star many triumps in classic and modern plays on the London stage, and with Old Vic companies in Denmark, Australia and New Zealand.

Your Garden

Some Flowers Are Best For That Summer Lift

It's a rare garden that doesn't need a lift in summer, a shot in the arm to revive the fading glory of earlier months. And gifted, indeed, is the gardener who owns one.

For while the trick is not really difficult to achieve, it takes long-range planning, and that stops most of us.

WHY MUST we run head-on into a condition before we know it exists? And face to face with it, why do most of us shrug and say, "Oh well, it's too late to remedy now." Is there a better time than this summer to plant what we know we'll need for next? The California Assocaition of Nurserymen will tell you there's not.

Annuals are angels in disguise when we find a need for color, but they can't carry the burden of repair alone. Had we planted some summer-blooming shrubs and trees a year ago, we'd be enjoying their encore of bloom right now.

Roses, of course, should carry a major load through these warm months, but if you haven't learned that by now you deserve a bare spot or two. You can have their color right now, however, if you purchase plants in full bloom in containers from your C.A.N. nurseryman.

HAS A NEW hibiscus caught your eye? Plant it now. No need to wait. You'll get some bloom from it right off. The same goes for such durable garden subjects as escallonia and abelia.

If you share our yen for the colorful and unusual, you'll no doubt be attracted to the shrimp plant. A row of its cream and bronze bracts under a floor-to-ceiling window or in a raised bed provides a big show through summer and fall.

Crape myrtles — especially the new ones—are sturdy performers for inland areas where they grow to small tree-size and bloom profusely.

And the feathery, graceful silk tree is a favorite with all who know it and grow it for the fine foliage and massed pink canopy of flowers. Grow it and your summer garden won't lack for color. That we'll guarantee.

Nostalgia Drips From Some Plants

Few things stir memories of the past like a familiar plant. You crush a leaf along a garden path, and its fragrance brings a flood of nostalgia. What distant garden of what bygone day yielded that same fragrance? How old were we then? What were we doing?

We've seen it happen time and again—this nostalgic reaction. And we've come to know many plants as parts of a living past, as timeless treats which stir our senses to vivid recall. Ask a nearby member of the California Association of Nurserymen to show you some of those old-fashioned favorites.

ONE THAT always does it for us is English lavender. The sight alone of this old garden favorite is enough to stir memories. To dry and store it in a dresser drawer where its fragrance greets us every day is to set a continuous series of flashbacks racing through our mind.

The unpretentious little annual, mignonette, starts a similar reaction. You seldom see it these days, but for gardeners who come across a flat of it in the local California Association of Nurserymen display yard, mignonette is a fragrant reminder of an earlier day.

And younger gardeners, discovering it for the first time will never forget the smell.

ROSEMARY IS SURE to strike a note with a good many gardeners. A rugged (and often) ragged) garden shrub, it gives us a pleasing gray tone and a scent that goes way back in our garden heritage. You can dry leaves for culinary use and harvest a double reward thereby.

There are many others which a slow trip through a nursery will turn up every time. They may not win any beauty contests nor cop a prize in a perfume competition, but if they stir a pleasant memory, what more could we ask?

Home Finance Is Topic of Panelists

A panel discussion on home financing was featured last night at a meeting in Concord of the County Home Builders Association.

John Stoffels, assistant vice president, Wells - Fargo Bank - American Trust Company, spoke on the availability of funds for homes from commercial banks.

Don Mitchell, executive vice president, San Francisco Federal Savings and Loan Company, covered the savings and loan aspect of financing.

Lloyd King, president, Lance Mortgage Company, Walnut Creek, discussed financing by life insurance companies.

James P. Anderson, vice president, Macy, Brown and Fields, Walnut Creek, discussed Fannie Mae (Federal National Mortgage Association).

Have Bare Spots In Your Garden? Try Annuals

Here is this week's gardeners' check list:

Annuals are the answer to post-vacation bare spots in the garden. Many are already abloom in nursery flats.

If you leave your garden in a friend's care, simplify his watering chores by moving all potted and tubbed plants to one area.

Dig early-blooming gladiolus when tops dry off. Cut off the dead stalks and dust the corms with insecticide before storing in a cool, dry place.

Set out stocks now for fall and winter bloom.

Select and set out bearded iris this month. Give them sun—full time in coastal areas, at least half-time inland.

Girl Scouts Will Have Chance to See Baseball

The San Francisco Giants have issued a special invitation to all Girl Scout groups in the area to attend the two remaining Kids' Days at Candlestick Park.

The invitation was offered by Walter Mails, promotion chief for the Giants, when he visited Lafayette last Friday. Mails and three other members of the club —Bud Byerly and Coaches Salty Parker and Wes Westrum—helped celebrate Lafayette Giant Days.

IN KEEPING with the request by Mails that the girls be given a chance at the free baseball tickets, Don Blackwood of Lafayette announced that an extra 200 tickets have been obtained for the girls for the game of August 25.

Blackwood said the tickets will be available for all girls groups in the Diablo Area Council of the Girl Scouts and they may be obtained at Girl Scout headquarters on Terrace Way in Lafayette.

The Lafayette man has already headed two groups of central county youngsters who attended two previous Kids' Days at Candlestick. Last Thursday, 450 members of the Lafayette Youth Association attended the game.

Groups which are interested are urged to write to Mails, Candlestick Park, care San Francisco Giants, listing the number of youngsters and the date desired.

Safety Built Homes is Title Of New Program

Bert Dawe of Walnut Creek, president of the Home Builders Association of Contra Costa County, announced that the association, working with the Contra Costa Health Department and the County Safety Council, Inc., has endorsed a "Safety Built Homes" program.

"This program has been under study by these groups for quite some time and was recently activated as a result of action taken by the home builders board of directors," he said.

George Concannon of Walnut Creek, chairman of the association's safety committee discussing the reasons for this unique program, said nationally 28,000 people are killed every year as the result of home accidents and that 4,000,000 injuries in the home were sustained in 1958 alone.

Locally, he said that 69 deaths were incurred during the past two years in Contra Costa County.

"These startling facts resulted in a cooperative effort, heretofore untried by similar groups, which it is hoped will act as a deterrent to this unnecessary slaughter," Concannon continued.

"In the first stage of the program, builder members of the association will distribute a brochure to home purchasers indicating to the buyer what they can do to help avoid accidents in their home.

Women Voters To Hear About 'Metro' Growth

Members of the League of Women Voters of Concord-Diablo Valley and their guests will hear Mrs. Edward Nathan discuss problems of metropolitan development and organization Thursday at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. James Keating, 5 Albo Court, Orinda.

Dessert will be served and swimming will follow the speech.

Mrs. Nathan, a resident of Berkeley and state league director of publications, will be introduced by Mrs. R. A. Feichtmeir of Walnut Creek, local chairman of metropolitan issues.

Mrs. Nathan is expected to lay the groundwork for the study of area and regional planning to provide for our rapidly expanding population.

Development of rapid transit districts, unification or reorganization of school districts, and city mergers or annexations are some of the important problems confronting the voter of this area to be studied by the league.

Mrs. David Mox of Pleasant Hill is in charge of the meeting. Members may call Mrs. L. L. Baldwin or Mrs. J. C. Starkie for reservations.

Krenzin Speaks On 'Dollars By Telephone'

George Krenzin, service engineer for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, spoke on "Dollars by Telephone" Monday morning at the Contra Costa Real Estate Board's multiple listing breakfast.

A week earlier, Emery Anderson, an instructor at the University of California real estate certificate program, spoke on "Why and How of Real Estate Exchanges."

It was announced that Ted Poehler, Charles Greer and Jim Klausner have been nominated to serve on the multiple listing committee.

Mrs. Jean Carter

Services were held Friday for Mrs. Jean Carter, 55, who died Tuesday in a Martinez hospital after a short illness.

She was a native of California and had lived in Lafayette 10 years. She resided at 3575 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Services were conducted in the Chapel in the Valley Lafayette Mortuary with Reverend Clarence Stacy of St. Anselm's Episcopal Church, officiating. Inurnment was at the Chapel of the Chimes, Oakland.

Safety Council Officers Meet

New officers of the Contra Costa Safety Council met with John Hall, district director of the National Safety Council, yesterday.

Hall discussed organizational standards and program planning as defined by the National Safety Council, for local safety council units.

Heart Campaign Succeeds; Here Are Committees

Board members of the Contra Costa County Heart Association were told that the total amount collected for the 1959-60 Heart Fund reached $64,121.

This report was given by Mrs. W. B. Marschner, treasurer, at the July board meeting.

The goal set for the Heart Fund was $64,000, according to Mrs. Marschner. Main sources of income were the February Heart Sunday drive and memorial gifts.

Dr. Marvin A. Epstein, president, announced committee appointments for the coming year.

Members of the executive committee include, in addition to the president, Dr. Peter Kunkel and Dr. Irving Fine, Pleasant Hill; Mrs. J. H. Schwarck, Orinda; Mrs. W. B. Marschner, Mrs. C. C. Willert, William C. McIntosh, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Harold Powell, Lafayette, and Dr. James F. Embick and Martin Paley, Richmond.

Named to the finance committee were Mrs. W. B. Marschner, chairman; Robert B. Bartlett, Dr. Frederick Pellegrin, Walnut Creek and Frederick E. Martin, Richmond.

Appointment of members of standing committees was verified by the board. These include Martin Paley, program; Mrs. C. C. Willert, volunteer; William C. McIntosh, chairman, Dr. Charles Hart, Charles Wood, Mrs. C. C. Willert and Dr. Kunkel, membership; and Mrs. Harold Powell, publicity.

Program committee chairmen named were Dr. Peter Kunkel, rehabilitation; Dr. Harold S. Robinson, Walnut Creek, nutrition; Dr. Mary L. Eilert, Walnut Creek, research; Dr. Irving Fine, rheumatic fever; Dr. Irving Fien, Concord, professional services, and Robert Barlett, personnel.

In other business of the evening, the board accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. Henry Freed, Pittsburg, as president-elect.

By unanimous motion, Dr. Peter Kunkel was appointed to this position. Mrs. Freed was elected a member of the board.

A GROWING SCIENCE

Last year in the United States some 70 million people were X-rayed. And this doesn't include the dental X-rays or the very important chest examinations given to about 18 million people by health survey units.
